April 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Jupiter SEO Experts have announced that they will be using advanced Video SEO to provide elite level SEO services to their business clients. These advanced video marketing services will further increase the online authority of their existing clients, as well as attract a larger number of new clients. The CEO of the SEO agency stresses that every business must use video to have an advantage over their competitors.

"Video SEO is one of the most important developments in the world of search engine optimization today," says Joel Carlsen from Jupiter SEO Experts. "It is believed that by 2017, 90% of all traffic on the internet will derive from video in one way or another. The reality is that the general public loves video, as does Google. By delivering these services, we ensure that businesses will have an advantage over their competition."

Jupiter SEO Experts have been highly respected with their private Corporate clients for their page 1 press release services, and their online domination strategies with which they have gained tremendous success. Their work has been described as being of elite quality, delivering results that others have never been able to achieve. Their goal is to make sure that all their clients end up on the first page of Google with multiple listings, gaining higher page authority and page rankings. They have achieved this through a three step approach.

The first step is to identify what their client's current online position is. They are currently providing for a limited number of businesses a free elite SEO report of business website, typically $997. This report shows their clients just how much business they are missing out on by not having multiple page 1 positions as well as exactly what is needed to achieve a perfect score for their current website.. The second stage of the process involves using their private online media relationships that get the business known with the biggest media organizations in the world. The final step is to utilize the online domination strategy, so that a website and business gets known not just by the media, but by the world as a whole.

"Our free elite SEO report of business website is an incredibly powerful tool," adds Joel Carlsen. "It instantly shows businesses what they are missing out on and how they can improve. We work with our clients from there, adding various market domination tools, including Video SEO and Video Marketing, to improve their current standing and give their future customers and Google what they love already - VIDEO."

Jupiter SEO Experts offer a range of services to make good on their promise. This includes search engine optimization, which now incorporates video, reputation management, web design and social media. Put together, these services allow online exposure to skyrocket. As a result, client base and reach is expanded exponentially. This, in turn, greatly increases revenue for a business, who need a constant influx of affordable, targeted traffic in order to remain profitable.

With their advanced video SEO and marketing service, JupiterSeoExperts.com hopes to continue to enhance the Elite services they already deliver. Their customer reviews show that they always deliver on their promises and that the effects of their work have provided huge benefits for online exposure and credibility which result in increased sales and revenues.
