

Go Industries Launches Innovative Grille Guards for Trucks with Unmatched Durability and Design

April 08, 2025

Richardson, TX - April 08, 2025 -
Go Industries Inc., a well-known name in accessories and services for trucks, law enforcement, and custom manufacturing, has just launched its newest line of truck grille guards. Based in Richardson, Texas, the company has provided quality products and reliable services to a wide range of customers for over forty years.

One of the standout products in this lineup is the Medium Duty Grille Guard. Selling for $1,772.75 to $2,190.78, this grille guard is carefully designed to fit various truck models, including the Chevrolet C4500, Chevrolet C6500, International CV515, Ford F650, and Ford F750. With its tilt body feature, the grille guard allows easy access to the hood. Manufactured in America, the product includes OEM-style latches and safety pins to ensure secure mounting. It also has a winch tray that fits most brands, supporting winches up to 16.5k. Made with 1.9-inch 14-gauge tubing and 2.5-inch center cross tubes, it also features an 18-gauge laser-cut center screen. Finished with a black textured powder coat, it combines durability with a sleek look.

"Go Industries has always aimed to offer products designed for top performance and reliability," a company spokesperson said. "Our truck grille guard is a part of our ongoing effort to provide our customers with accessories that enhance their truck's functionality while offering lasting protection," they continued.

For more details about their range of truck accessories, including the Rancher Grille Guards and BigTex Grille Guards, customers can visit their official website at goindustries.com.

Beyond the Medium Duty Grille Guards, Go Industries offers a variety of grille guards, like the knockdown and Winch Style options. These are available for trucks such as the Chevrolet C4500, Chevy 6500, Ford F750, F650, and International CV515. Installing these products requires no cutting or drilling, and they pivot forward for quick hood access. All grille guards, bumper replacements, and headache racks are made in the USA, highlighting the company's commitment to high manufacturing standards.

Go Industries prides itself on a comprehensive range of truck accessories designed to protect and improve a truck's performance. The company also offers products for law enforcement vehicles, such as specialized skid plates, to ensure effectiveness in tough situations. Custom manufacturing remains a big part of their service, allowing customers to create products tailored to their specific needs. To explore their custom manufacturing services or obtain a quote, interested parties can visit the custom manufacturing section on their site at goindustries.com.

The company is recognized for its high standards and product excellence. They have reached Platinum Status with SEMA, highlighting their strong dedication to maintaining standards that meet and often surpass customer expectations.

"We continuously work to innovate and improve our product range," stated a company representative. "Our team is committed to developing solutions that cater to the diverse needs of our customers. With our extensive experience and commitment to quality, we are confident in meeting our customers' evolving demands," they concluded.
