April 07, 2025 -
Home Instead Yeovil Innovation Centre, based at Copse Rd, Lufton, Yeovil BA22 8RN, is pleased to announce the official launch of its Home Care services across Yeovil. This development allows local families to access personalised, regulated care quickly and reliably, thanks to a dedicated team of care professionals who live in and around the area. By delivering tailored care solutions with minimal wait times, Home Instead Yeovil is addressing a growing demand for dependable in-home support across South Somerset.

?We?re proud to now offer Home Care services throughout Yeovil,? says Mark Hunt, Owner of Home Instead Yeovil Innovation Centre. ?The need for high-quality, timely care has never been greater. Because our team of care professionals live locally, we?re uniquely positioned to respond quickly and consistently. This means we can start care sooner and build long-term, supportive relationships with clients.?

With the number of older adults in the South Somerset region steadily increasing, many families are looking for trusted solutions that allow their loved ones to stay at home, rather than move into residential care settings. Home Instead Yeovil?s Home Care services offer a reliable alternative?combining independence with professional support in the comfort of home.

The Home Care service includes assistance with day-to-day tasks such as help with personal care, support with meal preparation, medication reminders, companionship, and mobility assistance. The team also offers more specialised support for those living with conditions such as dementia or Parkinson?s or recovering after hospital discharge.

Each care plan is tailored to the individual, developed following a detailed consultation with the client and their family. Home Instead Yeovil believes that high-quality care starts with understanding a person?s

lifestyle, preferences, history, and health needs.

?We don?t believe in one-size-fits-all solutions,? explains Hunt. ?Every person is unique, and their care should reflect that. From the very first consultation, we take the time to get to know each client and understand how best to support their wellbeing at home.?

A key strength of the Home Instead Yeovil service is the local team behind it. All care professionals are residents of Yeovil or the surrounding area, which means they understand the community and can provide continuity of care. This local knowledge enhances the client experience and helps ensure minimal disruption to their routines.

Thanks to this local approach, Home Instead Yeovil is able to offer prompt service without long waiting periods. New clients can begin receiving care sooner, which is especially valuable for families in urgent need of support.

?Families often reach out when they?re under pressure?maybe a loved one has just come out of hospital, or there?s been a sudden decline in health,? says Hunt. ?Being able to say, ?Yes, we can help you right away? brings real reassurance to people at a difficult time.?

Home Instead Yeovil has already earned praise from those who?ve experienced the care first-hand. One client, recently discharged from hospital, shared: ?I recently used the services of Home Instead after being discharged from hospital at a difficult time for me, both physically and emotionally. After an initial detailed discussion of my needs with Alexia, she put together a team of ladies whom I found to be absolutely wonderful?most professional but always understanding, cheerful and caring. Nothing seemed to be too much trouble. The service was beyond my expectations. Highly recommended. A big thank you to Sam, Emma, Kate and of course Alexia.?

Another client?s family member added: ?The Home Instead team have been helping my dad, who?s 91 and lives alone, since late last year. I can highly recommend them. The ladies helping my dad are reliable (always on time, no matter what!), kind, cheerful, sympathetic and willing to go above and beyond at times. My dad is very happy with their efforts. He enjoys and appreciates their visits. Well done, ladies.?

These testimonials reflect the dedication, warmth, and attention to detail that define the service.

Home Instead Yeovil Innovation Centre is committed to maintaining the highest standards of professionalism and safety. All care professionals undergo rigorous training and are supported with ongoing development. Areas of training include infection control, adult safeguarding, emergency procedures, moving and handling, and dementia awareness.

The service is fully regulated by the Care Quality Commission (CQC), giving families peace of mind that care is delivered safely and in accordance with nationally recognised standards.

?We take quality and accountability seriously,? explains Hunt. ?Our clients trust us with their care and with their loved ones. That?s a responsibility we don?t take lightly.?

Home Instead Yeovil also ensures that continuity of care is prioritised?meaning the same familiar faces visit regularly, helping to build rapport and a sense of security.

Home Instead Yeovil Innovation Centre is part of the respected Home Instead network, which has over 250 offices across the UK. The Yeovil office has been serving South Somerset from its base in Lufton, offering companionship-led, regulated care tailored to each person?s needs. The team supports older adults in maintaining their independence, dignity, and wellbeing at home, where they are most comfortable.
