

Northwest Plumbing Pioneers in Drain Cleaning and Clogged Sinks Solutions, Celebrating 100 Years of Excellence

April 29, 2025

DAVENPORT, Iowa - April 29, 2025 -
Northwest Plumbing, Heating & AC, a well-established company in Davenport, Iowa, is placing extra focus on furnace repair and installation as the winter season kicks in. This company, with nearly a hundred years of experience, is dedicated to offering effective and efficient heating solutions for homes in the Quad Cities. With colder temperatures already here, they're ready to meet the rising demand for reliable heating through quick and efficient services.

Celebrating its 100th anniversary, Northwest Plumbing, Heating & AC is offering a "Deal of the Month." Customers mentioning "Happy Birthday" can enjoy a $100 discount on new system installations, available for system replacements. This special offer is a reflection of their long-standing commitment to their customers, while providing valuable and timely solutions.

Bill Durand, CEO of Northwest Plumbing, Heating & AC, says, "Our focus on furnace repair and installation fits with our mission to deliver services that meet our customers' immediate needs. As we celebrate 100 years, this marks our history of reliable and quality service in the Quad Cities."

The company is also joining forces with GreenSky® to offer flexible financing options as colder months approach. This ensures that unexpected repair costs don't weigh heavily on families. Additionally, their $99 annual Service Partner Agreement includes regular check-ups, helping furnaces run smoothly and avoiding after-hours service fees.

For those seeking plumbing services, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC offers consistent support year-round. Whether it's fixing water heaters, cleaning drains, or dealing with clogged sinks, their technicians are ready to provide solutions, ensuring everything runs smoothly. The company stresses the need for a well-maintained plumbing system and offers preventative maintenance plans to keep clients well-prepared.

Aside from its services, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC frequently engages with its community through its Youtube channel. This platform broadens their reach, providing valuable information on heating, cooling, and plumbing topics. Customers can learn about joining their Service Partner Program or find practical maintenance tips there.

Durand adds, "Using platforms like Youtube helps us be more transparent and educational about our offerings. It's not just about providing a service; it's about building a relationship with the community and making sure they have access to valuable resources."

Through their digital presence, the company also shares monthly specials, answers customer questions, and keeps everyone up-to-date with the latest news. Customers are encouraged to explore current offers and learn about available deals, like the "Deal of the Month," by visiting their website or reaching out to customer service.

Even amid recent announcements, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC remains committed to high satisfaction levels, evident in its 4.8-star rating on Google. Focused on excellent service and customer interaction, the company hopes to extend its legacy into the future while providing reliable and affordable home maintenance solutions.

The decision to focus on furnace repair and installation comes at a crucial time, especially with predictions of a colder-than-usual winter. As a trusted provider for countless homes over the years, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC is determined to deliver outstanding service and strengthen its role as a leader in home heating, cooling, and plumbing.

This news article not only highlights the company's 100-year journey but also emphasizes its forward-looking approach to service and innovation in the Quad Cities. As Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC continues to grow its services, it stands on a foundation of quality and customer satisfaction that has been in place since 1923.
