January 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Mobile Optin review and bonus website has just been launched by internet marketer Boon Koh. The software product is Mobile Optin created by Anthony Morrison. His focus and support are in the area of mobile email marketing. Mr. Morrison has shown the marketing beginner or expert how to improve the effectiveness of mobile product usage in identifying and converting traffic to customers. Boon Koh has added to the software release with a significant package of free bonus offering to assist marketers and entrepreneurs.

The software launch includes instructions and suggestions which will help to turn mobile traffic into a loyal subscriber list. The product helps to build a responsive list of subscribers. The list is one which ensures real email addresses. Mobile Optin software shows how to build the list without spending excessive amounts of money. Building lists through mobile traffic can be very inexpensive. Unlike other list building sites, marketers are able to use the software built-in mobile landing page creator using any of the more than 100 templates.

Downloading the new software means there is no investment in web hosting or the purchase of a domain name. A mobile page builder is included in the software and there is no need for creating a squeeze page. Approximately five minutes is required to set up a mobile landing page. The cost of mobile traffic gained using the software costs as little as one dollar for five hundred to one thousand views.

The bonus package prepared by Boon adds value to the purchase of the software. He offers the "Clicking Profit System", "Tube Domination Course", "$12K in 12 days" audio coaching program, "Unstoppable Facebook Traffic" and "Six Figure Copywriting". These bonus items are immediately available to those who choose the Mobile Optin marketing software. Improving conversion, sign-ups and traffic is the result of improved copy.
