

Go Industries Unveils Best Mud Flaps for Dually Trucks, Bringing Top-Tier Protection and Quality

April 25, 2025

Richardson, TX - April 25, 2025 -
Go Industries Inc., a leader in truck accessories and custom manufacturing, has just introduced a new line of mud flaps made specifically for dually trucks. They know how important these mud flaps are in protecting vehicles, and they're staying committed to giving truck owners top-quality products.

Their focus on high-quality solutions is clear with this new range, which meets what dually truck owners need. These mud flaps are tough enough to handle harsh conditions, keeping both the truck and other vehicles safe from debris like rocks and salt on and off the road. Made from strong, non-recycled rubber, these mud flaps work with various truck models, including Chevrolet, Dodge Ram, Ford, and GMC.

According to the CEO of Go Industries, "Our mud flaps are designed with the needs of truck owners in mind. We understand that protection is paramount, whether it's for a commercial fleet or personal use. Our mission has always been to marry functionality with innovation to create leading products for the market."

Mud flaps have been recognized as important in the trucking industry for a long time. They first appeared during World War II and have become crucial for vehicle maintenance and protection. With their introduction of the best mud flaps for dually trucks, Go Industries takes tradition seriously, showing their dedication to quality and making customers happy.

Go Industries offers a wide range of choices in mud flaps, with prices from $37.41 to $209.00. This gives customers options that fit different preferences and budgets. Customers can choose sets like the Classic Dually Set or the Stainless Steel Dually Set, along with mounting brackets for a custom fit.

A representative of Go Industries, said, "Truck owners look for reliability and durability in their accessories. This is why each of our mud flaps undergoes rigorous testing. We ensure that they meet our standards before reaching our customers. It's vital that our products perform exceptionally on every journey."

The company makes their products easy to access with plenty of resources on their website, such as instructional videos, warranty details, and a full catalog. With Platinum Status from SEMA, Go Industries is known for its high service standards and excellent products.

For those interested in protecting their trucks, Go Industries' website has lots of information about their mud flaps and other truck accessories. Dually truck owners can find the best mud flaps for ram 3500 dually, giving them security under various driving conditions.
