4 Wardrobe, a business in Twickenham, London, United Kingdom, has recently released a new blog post on the link between bedroom comfort and fitted wardrobes. The post discusses the various benefits of having these types of wardrobes fitted and emphasizes the fact that many people prefer having space around them. This article is available at <http://www.4-wardrobe.co.uk/ bespoke-custom-fitted-wardrobes-provide-comforts-in-your-bedroom/>.

Michael Frick from 4 Wardrobe says: "From a psychological perspective, people don't feel comfortable if they are surrounded by stuff and clutter. However, we live in a world where homes are getting smaller while our collective belongings are becoming more plentiful. Fitted wardrobes can ensure people have the comfortable bedroom they want, without having to get rid of any of their stuff."

In the blog post, the various benefits offered by having fitted wardrobes are discussed. These include space maximization, smart storage options, a tidier and streamlined look, and being able to choose from a range of styles and finishes. The most important factor, however, is the fact that people can put all their belongings away in an organized fashion, thus increasing their overall comfort.

Clutter has been proven to be bad for people's mental health. "In a recent piece of research, we observed that people who spend time around their belongings have a notable increase in stress hormones," says Dr. J. Grant. "In fact, even if they were standing still around their belongings, their brain behaved as if it was multitasking. This means that there is literally a sensory overload. This, in turn, stops people from thinking creatively and makes them feel stressed. It is vital, therefore, to have organized systems in place as much as possible."

At the same time, 4 Wardrobe recognizes the psychological impact of having belongings. "Dr. Grant's research also showed that the brain becomes attached to any object that you hold for a specific period of time, regardless of what that is," adds Michael Frick. "By having fitted wardrobes, you can have the best of both worlds: you don't have to let go of your belongings, but you don't have to live in clutter either."
