Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning Expands Trusted HVAC Services in Greenwood, Indiana

June 09, 2025

Indianapolis, Indiana - June 09, 2025 -
Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning is excited to now provide a full range of HVAC services to the people of Greenwood, Indiana. With a history that goes back to 1883, Thiele is expanding its reach to bring its reliable heating, cooling, and indoor air quality services to Greenwood residents. The goal is to meet local needs and offer dependable service.

Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning offers many services tailored to homeowners' diverse needs. For heating, they handle installation, repair, and upkeep of furnaces, boilers, heat pumps, and geothermal systems. In terms of cooling, they have expertise in working with air conditioners, heat pumps, and ductless mini-split systems. They also focus on indoor air quality, providing services like installing and repairing air purifiers, air cleaners, thermostats, zoning systems, dehumidifiers, humidifiers, and UV lights.

A key part of their service is the "Rewards" Service Agreement Maintenance Program, which helps prevent problems before they begin, keeping systems running smoothly. This program offers biannual checkups, priority service, and discounts on parts and repairs. Thiele believes regular maintenance isn't just about preventing issues; it's about ensuring systems work efficiently over time.

Jason Braun of Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning spoke about their move into Greenwood. "We're excited to bring our services to Greenwood, a community that understands the value of maintaining a comfortable and healthy home environment. Our expert technicians are ready to deliver the same level of dedication and skill that has established us as a trusted name in heating and cooling for over a century."

Homeowners searching for "hvac near me" in the Greenwood area can now easily access Thiele's wide range of services. The company has a network of certified technicians who offer personalized service for every home. Thiele aims to be a reliable choice for professional HVAC services.

To help customers finance new installations, Thiele offers various payment plans to ease the financial burden. This reflects the company's commitment to making advanced HVAC systems available to more households.

Thiele encourages Greenwood residents to try their comprehensive services. They offer heating, air conditioning, and air quality solutions to keep homes comfortable all year round. The company hopes that their focus on customer service will build strong, lasting relationships in the Greenwood area.

Jason Braun mentioned, "As we extend our services to Greenwood, we are eager to build strong bonds with the community. Our relationship with the customer goes beyond immediate service, focusing on trust and reliability for all their heating and cooling needs."

Besides providing excellent heating and cooling solutions, Thiele is also dedicated to educating customers on system care and maintenance. This approach empowers homeowners to take proactive steps in keeping their systems in good shape, which enhances efficiency and longevity.

Entering the Greenwood market represents a new phase for Thiele, a company with more than 140 years of experience. By blending traditional values with modern technology, Thiele is set on delivering outstanding service. Their expert team is trained to handle a wide variety of HVAC needs.

As Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning expands into Greenwood, residents can look forward to the same high quality of service the company has cultivated over generations. The expansion makes trusted HVAC solutions more accessible to the local community.

With their range of services and strong maintenance plans, Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning is positioned as a significant player in the Greenwood residential market. For more information on greenwood
