As Indianapolis's oldest HVAC service provider, in operation since 1883, Thiele is broadening its reach to offer comprehensive services that cover everything from heating to improving indoor air quality. This move highlights Thiele's ongoing commitment to enhancing home environments with dependable services.

Greenwood residents can now access a full range of heating services, including the installation, repair, and maintenance of dual fuel HVAC systems, furnaces, boilers, heat pumps, and geothermal heating systems. For cooling needs, Thiele offers installation and support for various air conditioning systems, such as ductless mini-splits, ensuring efficient climate control throughout every season.

Continuing their dedication to exceptional customer service, Thiele now offers Greenwood HVAC services conveniently accessible to residents. Details on all services can be found on the Thiele Heating & Air Conditioning website.

In addition to individual services, Thiele has rolled out its Annual "Rewards" Service Agreement Maintenance Program in Greenwood. This preventive maintenance plan includes twice-yearly checkups, system cleaning, air filter replacement, and a 15% discount on parts and repairs. The program is designed to keep HVAC systems in top shape, helping to prevent unexpected breakdowns and extend the lifespan of the equipment.

Jason Braun, Thiele's representative, highlights the need for regular maintenance, saying, "Most HVAC issues stem from the lack of regular maintenance rather than isolated malfunctions. By offering our maintenance plan to Greenwood residents, we aim to eliminate potential issues before they escalate into major repairs."

For those worried about costs, Thiele offers financing options for Greenwood residents, which are designed to make it easier to tackle projects or unexpected repairs without financial stress. This initiative ensures that financial concerns don't prevent access to quality services. More information regarding financing plans can be found on their company website.

Improving air quality is also a focus for Thiele in Greenwood. Their services include installing and repairing air purifiers, humidifiers, and UV lights. These solutions aim to increase the comfort and health of residents by reducing pollutants and managing humidity levels.

Jason Braun expressed the company's excitement about expanding to Greenwood, stating, "We are thrilled to extend our services to Greenwood. Our goal is to provide dependable HVAC solutions that cater to the unique needs of each home, paired with personalized customer support."
