

Plumber In Mobile AL Gives Back To The Community

February 02, 2016

February 02, 2016 -
A plumbing service company based in Mobile, AL, is proud to announce that they are now able to give back to the community through the Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC). They want to set themselves apart as the most caring plumbing contractors Mobile AL has to offer and this is just one of the initiatives they have in place to demonstrate this. Through the RMHC, they hope to help families find strength in numbers.

Russell Yeckley of Mr. Rooter Plumbing of SW AL says: "The community of Mobile has trusted us with their plumbing needs for so many years. We really wouldn't be where we are today if it wasn't for their continued trust in us. We believe it is time for us to give back as well, and one way in which we aim to do this is through the RMHC."

The RMHC aims to keep families together during those times of medical difficulties. There have been numerous reports of children being able to heal thanks to the proximity of their family. While there is no way for the plumbing company to make the treatment more comfortable, they will do all they can to make sure children have that support network around them. They do more, therefore, than simply offer the best plumbing services Mobile AL has to offer. They also try to actually make lives better.

RMHC offers a home for families with sick children. They have a presence in 58 countries in the world and have been supporting families since 1974. Their work have been vital in making a difficult time more comfortable for everybody involved and Mr. Rooter Plumbing couldn't think of a more worthy cause. The community agrees: "Hearing that a plumbing company supports Ronald McDonald Houses is just wonderful," says Mary T. "Plumbers often have a bad name as being cowboy builders, but these guys really do a tremendous job. And knowing that me hiring them helps to save me money and make a child more comfortable is just the icing on the cake. I wholeheartedly recommend these guys."
