

Revolutionary 6-Stage Purification System Unveiled by Water Purification Specialists in Michigan

June 06, 2025

TROY, MI - June 06, 2025 -

Water Purification Specialists, based in Oakland County, Michigan, are excited to introduce the PLATINUM Series 6-Stage Purification System, a cutting-edge advancement in water purification technology. This innovation highlights the company's dedication to providing solutions for clean and safe water for local homes. Known for offering comprehensive services like whole house water purification and well water treatment, Water Purification Specialists are at the leading edge of the industry with their latest product.

The PLATINUM Series 6-Stage Purification System marks a big step forward, using a multi-stage approach to remove a wide range of contaminants from water. Unlike other systems, this product doesn't depend on salt or filters that need frequent changes, which makes it more user-friendly and environmentally friendly. Seth Parsons, the CEO of Water Purification Specialists, explains, "The PLATINUM Series is designed with families in mind, ensuring that every tap in the home provides water that is not only clean but also tastes great. We're proud to offer a system that tackles pollutants effectively while simplifying maintenance for users." More information about the Water Purification Specialists Product can be found on their website.

Beyond this new advancement, Water Purification Specialists continue to offer complete house water purification services. These services make sure that every source of water in the home is treated, not just some taps. The purification process removes a wide array of contaminants, such as bacteria, chlorine, heavy metals, PFAs, and pesticides, improving the quality and safety of household water. The service operates continuously and doesn't rely on complicated filters, providing consistent access to clean water.

The company also focuses on homes using private wells, offering customized solutions through their well water treatment services. By performing professional in-home water testing, they provide tailored recommendations to address specific contaminants found in well water, ensuring the health and peace of mind for families using this water source.

The Water Purification Specialists Facebook page connects the company with their community, offering updates on services and tips on maintaining water quality at home. Through their online presence, they aim to educate and engage, underlining the significance of water purification for a healthy lifestyle.

Water Purification Specialists are aware of challenges posed by common water contaminants like chlorine, fluoride, PFAs, pharmaceuticals, pesticides, and bacteria. To address these issues, the company provides detailed information and potential solutions, enabling homeowners to make informed decisions about their water quality.

Parsons states, "Our mission is to ensure that every household in our service area has access to clean, safe drinking water. With our latest technologies and services, we are helping to safeguard families from harmful water contaminants." Additional details on solutions for common water contaminants can be accessed on their website.

Maintaining a strong reputation for customer service and solid product offerings, the company provides free in-home testing in areas such as Troy, Rochester, Royal Oak, Birmingham, and beyond. Water Purification Specialists are dedicated to helping homeowners understand and address their specific water quality concerns with clarity and ease.

Those interested in more information about the PLATINUM Series 6-Stage Purification System or other services offered by Water Purification Specialists can reach out through their website or their Facebook page. Both platforms offer a smooth experience for potential customers exploring ways to improve water purity in their homes.

Standing as a symbol of reliability and expertise in water purification, Water Purification Specialists continue to enhance their offerings while steadfastly committing to quality. The company upholds its mission of delivering safe, purified water across Oakland County and beyond. More information about the Water Purification Specialists Product can be found on their website.

###

For more information about Water Purification Specialists, contact the company here: Water Purification Specialists Seth Parsons +1 (248) 289-2139 seth@departmentofcleanwater.com Troy, MI

Water Purification Specialists

We are Water Purification Specialists, formerly the Department of Clean Water installs whole home water purification systems. No filters to change, no salts to add, a maintenance free system. Call us today, we will come test your water for FREE!

Website: <https://waterpurificationspecialists.com/>

Email: seth@departmentofcleanwater.com

Phone: +1 (248) 289-2139

