

Anchor Roofing Expands Services with New Gutter Division, Strengthening Position as a Leading Omaha Gutter Company

May 30, 2025

May 30, 2025 -
Anchor Roofing, a trusted name in residential roofing throughout the Omaha metro, is proud to announce the launch of its newest in-house division focused on professional gutter services. With this addition, Anchor Roofing aims to provide a full-service exterior solution for homeowners, becoming a one-stop shop for roofing and gutter needs. As a growing Omaha gutter company, the team is equipped to deliver quality, efficiency, and expert guidance backed by a service-first approach.

Already a leading provider as a residential roofing company and commercial roof replacement company, Anchor Roofing is now offering customized gutter services designed specifically for homeowners, emphasizing quality and durability. Whether it's installing new shingles or configuring a complete drainage system, this expansion represents Anchor Roofing?s ongoing commitment to delivering seamless, high-value service for homeowners. More details on their roofing services can be found on their website.

Anchor Roofing?s new division is dedicated to gutter systems, establishing itself as a trusted Omaha gutter company?not through partnerships, but with our own in-house expertise. Having proper gutter systems is crucial for managing water flow and preventing building damage. By integrating these services, Anchor Roofing provides a well-rounded approach to property maintenance, reinforcing their commitment to being a complete service provider in the roofing industry. Learn more about their gutter system services on the company page.

Anchor Roofing?s gutter division offers a wide range of services tailored to meet Omaha homeowners' specific needs:

Gutter and downspout installation using 5? and 6? seamless aluminum gutters

Gutter and downspout repair for leaks, rerouting, and storm damage

Gutter guard installation, with options matched to local foliage and roof types

Fascia board and fascia wrap repair to support secure gutter mounting

Gutter cleaning services, expected to launch in Fall 2025

?Anchor will stand out because we have a dedicated expert on staff,? said Mike Meyer of Anchor Roofing. ?Alec Monter will run our gutter division operations and provide an efficient workflow, ensure quality control, and resolve warranty issues promptly. He?s not just knowledgeable?he?s also incredibly focused on customer experience.?

Unlike many companies that install thinner or lower-quality materials, Anchor Roofing exclusively uses .032-gauge aluminum, the most durable and dent-resistant gauge available for residential gutters. The company also handles the full removal and disposal of existing gutter systems and recycles materials whenever possible.

The local market's demands have propelled this expansion. There's a noticeable increase in requests from residential clients for personalized solutions that match specific home requirements.

All gutter materials are sourced locally from Beacon Building Products and manufactured by Mastic, a trusted brand known for longevity and color quality. Homeowners can choose from 21 baked-on enamel finishes, including classic and contemporary colors such as Black, White, Musket Brown, Wicker, and Desert Sand.

While Anchor does not fabricate custom colors, homeowners can review in-person color swatches for the best match. Gutters and downspouts can also be painted post-installation if an exact match is desired.

Custom fabrication is completed on-site using a professional gutter-forming machine that rolls and cuts material to exact specifications. This ensures a seamless gutter fit with reduced risk of leaks or sagging.

Anchor offers several high-quality gutter guard products:

Gutter RX ? A mid-tier option made from perforated aluminum. Affordable, low-profile, and effective against large debris.

HydroFlo ? A premium stainless steel micro-mesh system that blocks all debris, dries quickly, and allows for self-shedding.

Gutter Helmet ? A solid aluminum, reverse-curve guard that installs under shingles and requires no maintenance.

Each option is recommended based on tree density, roof pitch, and maintenance preferences.

To tackle the challenges of the broader market, Anchor Roofing is investing in its workforce by providing extensive training and development programs. This ensures that their team remains up-to-date with the latest roofing solutions and practices. By focusing on training, Anchor Roofing upholds a high standard of service and innovation.

"Adapting and learning are key to making progress in the roofing industry," said Alec Monter. "We're always improving our knowledge and refining our techniques to meet new challenges. Our goal is to deliver not only quality materials but also the expertise that ensures they perform at their best over time."

Anchor provides free, on-site inspections, including measurements, photo documentation, and homeowner consultations. These consultations help identify current issues, review color selections, and tailor the design to homeowner preferences.

Anchor Roofing stands behind its work with a 5-year labor and material warranty on all gutter projects. Financing options are available to make these upgrades more accessible, and bundled discounts are often available for customers completing a roof and gutter project together.

By positioning itself as more than just a roofing provider, Anchor Roofing aims to be seen as a key part of exterior property solutions. Offering comprehensive services caters to the rising demand for companies that provide integrated solutions, reducing the need for multiple contractors and simplifying property maintenance processes. Further exploration of their service integration can be found at their website.

?Anchor Roofing is more than a roofing provider,? said Mike Meyer. ?We?re a partner in protecting your home?top to bottom. This new gutter division lets us better serve our community and meet the evolving needs of our customers.?

Anchor Roofing's strategic initiatives strengthen its presence in the community, offering expanded services that reflect an understanding of customer needs and future trends. With an emphasis on quality, reliability, and durability, Anchor Roofing remains a top choice in the industry, now broadening its reach through enhanced offerings.
