Richardson, TX - May 09, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Go Industries Inc., well-known for its truck accessories and law enforcement equipment, is excited to share their latest product: Medium Duty Grille Guards. These are now available for heavy-duty trucks like the Chevrolet C4500, Chevrolet C6500, International CV515, Ford F650, and Ford F750. This new product highlights the company's consistent effort to deliver sturdy and reliable accessories for trucks. For more details on these new and existing products, visit the Go Industries product page.

These Medium Duty Grille Guards are crafted for today's truck owner. They come with practical features including a winch tray that can handle winches up to 16.5k, fitting most brands. The grille guard tilts forward, making it simple to access the vehicle's hood for maintenance, without any cutting or drilling needed for installation. This preserves the vehicle's structure while offering strong protection.

"Our Medium Duty Grille Guards are built to meet the tough demands of both fleet operators and individual truck owners," noted a Go Industries Inc. representative. "These guards offer crucial front-end protection and come with the utility of a winch, proving essential for anyone needing reliable performance and functionality."

The design features headlight brush guards, made with sturdy 1.9-inch, 14-gauge tubing, and solid 2.5-inch center cross tubes, all fully welded for extra strength. The center screens are cut with laser precision from 18-gauge material, giving the product a sleek, professional appearance. They are finished in a textured black powder coat, enhancing resistance to wear and reflecting Go Industries' high product standards.

Known for its expertise in truck accessories, Go Industries Inc. is expanding its lineup with products like these grille guards, maintaining its status as a leader in truck and law enforcement equipment. Proudly American-made, the company ensures the highest quality across its products. Visit the Go Industries custom manufacturing services page for tailored solutions.

Beyond truck accessories, Go Industries caters to law enforcement vehicles, broadening its market reach.
