Top Plastic Surgeon in Berks County Says Motiva® Breast Implants Deliver the Most Natural Results Yet

Wyomissing, PA?Board-certified plastic surgeon Brian K. Reedy, MD, of Berks Plastic Surgery has seen remarkable results using Motiva® implants for breast augmentation?an FDA-approved silicone breast implant option he says is helping women achieve some of the most natural-looking, confidence-boosting results he?s seen in over two decades of performing breast augmentation.

The team at Berks Plastic Surgery was among the first in Pennsylvania to offer Motiva after its approval in 2024. Since then, Dr. Reedy has had the opportunity to see how they compare in practice.

?I?ve been incredibly impressed with Motiva,? said Dr. Reedy, Founder of Berks Plastic Surgery and an award-winning breast augmentation surgeon. ?Our patients are thrilled with how natural their breasts feel and how seamless their results are. This technology is truly a step forward.?

While Berks Plastic Surgery continues to offer a range of FDA-approved breast implant options, such as the Natrelle® Silicone Collection and saline implant options, Dr. Reedy said Motiva stands out for several reasons?most notably, how they perform and feel after surgery.

?These implants are soft, smooth, and move naturally with the body,? he explains. ?There?s less visible rippling, and I?ve noticed an especially natural shape, which is a significant advantage for patients with thinner breast tissue. I?ve placed Motiva implants in primary breast augmentation procedures and revision surgeries, and the outcomes are outstanding for both.?

In addition to offering natural-looking breast augmentation results, Motiva breast implants were designed with patient safety in mind, incorporating several proprietary features that set them apart from traditional implants. These include an innovative surface that is engineered to reduce tissue irritation and lower the risk of capsular contracture; a blue-tinted barrier that helps reduce the risk of silicone gel leakage from implant rupture; and an optional microchip that can be embedded within each implant so doctors and patients can access important implant information after placement.

Together, these features offer an added layer of reassurance for long-term implant performance and traceability. Motiva?s global complication rates remain low, and satisfaction rates are high among both patients and surgeons.

Dr. Reedy explained, ?This kind of innovation gives our patients even more peace of mind. When someone chooses to have breast augmentation, they?re trusting us with something deeply personal. It?s our job to offer options that honor that trust, and Motiva?s technology shows impressively low rates of capsular contracture, rupture, and infection.?

Known for his artistic eye and ability to help patients choose implants that enhance their natural figure, Dr. Reedy emphasized that the right implant choice depends on the individual: ?No two patients are alike, and we will continue offering traditional implants too for the foreseeable future. What matters is finding the best implant for you?your body, your lifestyle, your goals. That?s why we take the time to walk through all your implant options and help you make a choice you?ll love for years to come.?

Dr. Reedy has built a reputation across the region for beautiful, natural-looking breast augmentation and body contouring results. His before-and-after photos, shared regularly on Instagram and other social media platforms, showcase not just technical excellence, but also his commitment to delivering results that help women feel like the best version of themselves.

Motiva is just the latest addition to a full range of breast enhancement options offered at the Wyomissing plastic surgery practice, which serves patients from Reading, Allentown, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, and beyond.
