

Discover New Refinance Options at John Cornish's QCHomeLoan.com Launch

May 30, 2025

DAVENPORT, IA - May 30, 2025 -
John Cornish, a trusted mortgage expert in Davenport, Iowa, is excited to announce the launch of his new website, QCHomeLoan.com. The site went live on September 1, 2021, and it's packed with resources and tools to help first-time homebuyers and veterans understand the mortgage process better. It offers vital information about FHA loans, VA home loans, and other mortgage options, aiming to make financial decisions easier for people in the Quad Cities area.

With over 20 years of experience, John Cornish has helped more than 2,300 families turn their homeownership dreams into reality. His team, comprising Ryan Roman, Tayler Fick, and Lindsay Frederick, is dedicated to guiding clients smoothly through the mortgage process, from starting to closing.

"The launch of QCHomeLoan.com shows our dedication to making things easier for homebuyers and veterans," said John Cornish. "We're excited to provide a platform where clients can find all the essential mortgage information they need, helping them make informed choices."

QCHomeLoan.com is full of detailed guides, answers to common questions, and blogs on different mortgage topics. It dives into FHA loans, like the Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) and FHA 203(k) Improvement Mortgage, which are designed to help low-income buyers get government-supported home loans.

The website launch is part of John Cornish's broader plans to grow his online presence and become a leading mortgage lender in the Quad Cities. His team is also active on social media platforms like Facebook and Instagram, where they share tips and updates. This boosts their visibility and provides a space for interaction, offering timely advice and information.

The website attracts a variety of visitors looking for information on refinancing, first-time home buying, or maximizing home investment. It offers real-time guidance on the pre-approval process and strategies for strong property offers, which can be useful in competitive markets.

Outside of work, John Cornish and his wife Meghan actively participate in local community work through the Key Cares Foundation. Over the past four years, they've helped raise more than $160,000 for local non-profits, showing their commitment to improving life in the Quad Cities area.
