Calgary, Alberta - May 15, 2025 - E-Cubed Media Synthesis, a global leader in digital solutions, proudly announces the launch of www.pc9000.com, a cutting-edge website built on the Kentico Xperience platform. As a top Kentico Gold Partner, having delivered over 120 Kentico sites and earned more than 50 industry awards, E-Cubed leveraged economies of scale from its work on www.smsequipment.com to create a multi-language, user-centric website. Featuring immersive design that showcases the machine?s sheer size and stature, the site delivers exceptional experiences for a global audience, reinforcing E-Cubed?s expertise in crafting innovative digital platforms that drive engagement and business success.

Kentico Xperience is an award-winning digital experience platform (DXP) that integrates advanced content management, digital marketing, and commerce capabilities, enabling dynamic, scalable digital experiences. Trusted by over 35,000 websites across 120 countries, Kentico is celebrated for its robust functionality, security, and unmatched flexibility. For PC9000.com, E-Cubed harnessed Kentico?s capabilities to deliver a multi-language platform, with its open API enabling seamless integrations with external systems for enhanced functionality. Customization options supported responsive design, intuitive navigation, and Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) compliance, ensuring an accessible, engaging, and inclusive user experience.

PC9000.com exemplifies E-Cubed?s ability to maximize Kentico?s enterprise-grade capabilities. The site?s immersive design captivates users by showcasing the machine?s monumental scale through visually striking elements, high-resolution imagery, and intuitive layouts that emphasize its grandeur and outstanding engineering prowess. This design creates a compelling visual narrative that resonates with industry professionals, engineers, and enthusiasts worldwide. The platform?s hybrid headless architecture ensures adaptability to future digital trends, supporting integrations with emerging technologies. E-Cubed?s meticulous implementation of Kentico?s flexible framework guarantees high performance, scalability, and reliability, meeting the demands of a global user base with a robust, efficient digital experience.

E-Cubed?s Kentico Gold Partner status, earned through delivering over 120 Kentico sites and securing over 50 prestigious awards, reflects its deep technical expertise, certified developers, and unwavering commitment to excellence. This elite recognition positions E-Cubed among the world?s leading Kentico agencies, trusted for executing complex projects with precision and innovation. The development of PC9000.com built on efficiencies from www.smsequipment.com, enabling streamlined processes and cost-effective delivery without compromising quality. E-Cubed?s content-first approach, powered by Kentico, facilitates efficient multilingual content management, while users experience a visually compelling, accessible interface. With SOC 2 Type II compliance, the site delivers a secure, high-quality digital experience that builds trust among users and stakeholders.

?The launch of PC9000.com demonstrates our ability to transform digital visions into reality using Kentico?s powerful platform,? said Marco Chan, Director of User Experience at E-Cubed Media Synthesis. ?With over 120 Kentico sites and 50 awards, we?ve crafted a multi-language website with immersive design that showcases the machine?s grandeur and ensures global accessibility. This project reflects our dedication to innovation and outstanding excellence.?
