A tile installation service provider in Phoenix, AZ, is proud to announce that they have launched their brand new website. The new site clearly highlights the various services that the company offers. Furthermore, it includes an online contact form to enable people to send in requests or questions at a time that is convenient to them.

Thomas Sierra from Tile Installation Phoenix says: "Our new website looks amazing and we really can't thank the design team enough. We have decided to keep the look simple and clean, which is something people who want to have tiles installed often look for as well. And the contact form has been created to be very easy to use, so that people can speak to us at a time that is convenient to them."

As part of the new website, the company has also launched the first Tile Installation Phoenix YouTube video. This video shows a number of examples of the work that the company has done and includes before, during and after photographs. Not only does the video help to inspire people in terms of ideas of what to do with their own tiling, it also clearly showcases and highlights the work that the company is able to do.

As part of their new website launch, the company has also launched their Facebook page. The Tile Installation Phoenix Facebook page is already proving to be very popular. The page is being used to share information about past, current and upcoming projects, and also to share other pieces of information in terms of industry news and more. Additionally, people are encouraged to use the Facebook page to review their experiences with the business.

Since it was founded, the company has received many positive reviews and their track record of delivering excellent customer service is beyond reproach. "I totally love what Tile Installation Phoenix did for me," says one happy customer. "They are not just tile installers, they are actual artists. My floor looks better than I could have dreamed of myself."

People are encouraged to watch the YouTube video and to give the company's Facebook page a like so that they can remain fully up to date.
