SANDY, UT - May 19, 2025 -

North Star Heating & Air Conditioning is excited to announce that it is expanding its services to help make homes more comfortable for local residents. With a strong focus on keeping customers happy, the company is introducing new solutions to better meet the heating, cooling, and air quality needs of homeowners. With over 30 years of experience, North Star Heating & Air Conditioning aims to tackle multiple areas of indoor climate control with these new offerings.

As a dependable HVAC contractor in Sandy, Utah, North Star Heating and Air Conditioning offers services that cater to the changing seasons. They've added advanced duct cleaning and indoor air quality options to their lineup, aiming to improve air circulation and filtration in homes. This update contributes to a healthier living space. By focusing on better ductwork services, the company wants to eliminate airflow problems, making it easier for systems to maintain comfortable temperature and humidity levels all year round.

Terry Kelsch, a representative from North Star Heating & Air Conditioning, shared, "Over the years, we've learned that maintaining a comfortable indoor environment goes beyond simple heating or air conditioning. Our newest additions focus on the quality of air people breathe at home. The enhancements in our duct cleaning and filtration systems are designed to provide the most comprehensive service possible."

North Star Heating and Air Conditioning in Sandy UT enhances winter comfort with thorough furnace inspections, repairs, and replacements. These services make sure heating systems run safely and efficiently. Besides standard furnace care, the company's new offerings include advanced humidity control systems. These systems are designed to maintain ideal humidity, preventing the discomfort of air that's too dry or too moist.

When it comes to staying cool during the summer, their air conditioning services have been upgraded with efficiency checks and modern system installations. This aims to improve performance while cutting down on energy usage. North Star Heating and Air Conditioning in Sandy UT works with various brands and models to ensure customers get systems tailored to their home needs. Fast response for emergency repairs is also a top priority because the company knows how important it is to keep homes comfortable during heat waves.

Customer feedback shows that the company's team is both diligent and efficient. Reviews on platforms like Google often praise North Star Heating & Air Conditioning for being on time and professional. One review highlighted a technician named Dylan for providing quick and effective service, underlining the company's commitment to satisfying customers.

North Star Heating & Air Conditioning also believes in educating homeowners on maintaining their systems. By sharing tips and resources, they empower clients to spot potential issues early, reducing the risk of major problems. This focus on regular check-ups and timely interventions helps ensure that heating and cooling systems remain reliable throughout the year.

Being a family-run business, North Star Heating & Air Conditioning stresses personal service and local know-how. They are available 24/7, meaning clients can reach out for help whenever needed. With a commitment to continuous improvement, the company keeps adapting to the changing demands of home heating and cooling.

"Our team is passionate about serving the community and continuously improving our offerings," added Kelsch. "We believe that by expanding our services, we can offer more comprehensive solutions that benefit our customers and their comfort."
