Anthem Self Storage Expands Secure Self-Storage Services to More Everett Area Communities

May 22, 2025

EVERETT, WA - May 22, 2025 -
Anthem Self Storage, a locally operated storage facility based in Everett, Washington, has officially announced the expansion of its secure self-storage services to residents and businesses in Cascade View, Twin Creeks, and surrounding areas. This strategic rollout brings enhanced storage accessibility and high-standard security features to meet the growing demand for reliable personal and commercial storage in the region.

The newly expanded service offering is designed to address common space constraints faced by both individuals and businesses. With an increasing number of households undergoing transitions such as downsizing, home renovations, or relocations, and with small enterprises requiring safe spaces for inventory or seasonal equipment, the demand for dependable storage facilities has risen significantly. Anthem Self Storage?s secure self-storage units aim to provide a practical solution through flexible leasing terms, modern amenities, and heightened security infrastructure.

?Space management has become a pressing concern for many in our community, and our goal is to offer a stress-free and reliable option for storing items that matter,? said Derek Hines, the facility's owner and manager. ?This expansion allows us to better serve the needs of Everett and its neighboring communities with an emphasis on safety, convenience, and accessibility.?

Anthem Self Storage's units are equipped with features tailored to safeguard a wide variety of items, including household furniture, business inventory, archived documents, and seasonal gear. All units are protected by high-definition 24/7 video surveillance and controlled gate access systems, which require personalized keycodes for entry. The facility's design includes well-lit corridors, climate-controlled units for temperature-sensitive items, and convenient daily access from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The expansion into Cascade View and Twin Creeks coincides with local population growth and commercial development in South Everett. As housing developments increase and more businesses set up operations in the area, the need for safe, accessible storage options has become more pronounced. The introduction of Anthem?s secure self-storage units aims to fill this service gap with a consistent standard of quality and transparency.

Unlike traditional storage models that often require long-term contracts and include hidden fees, Anthem Self Storage offers month-to-month leasing to accommodate both short- and long-term needs. This leasing flexibility is particularly beneficial for people undergoing life transitions such as moving, decluttering, or managing estates, as well as for contractors or retailers who require temporary space for tools and merchandise.

The facility?s location at 1610 SE Everett Mall Way provides easy access to major roads and thoroughfares. This allows customers from a wide geographic radius to utilize its services without logistical inconvenience. In addition to residential users, the facility has reported an uptick in interest from small businesses, particularly in trades, e-commerce, and seasonal retail, which often require scalable storage solutions without the overhead of a commercial lease.

?Our commitment to the local community goes beyond providing space,? Hines added. ?People store their belongings with us because they trust the environment we?ve built. It is clean, secure, and managed with care.?

The facility also emphasizes customer support, with a knowledgeable on-site team available to assist clients in choosing unit sizes, understanding lease terms, and accessing moving supplies such as boxes, tape, and protective covers. This hands-on approach ensures that even first-time storage users can navigate the process with confidence.

As part of the rollout, Anthem Self Storage has integrated improved signage and directional assistance for ease of navigation throughout the premises. Additionally, recent enhancements to lighting, surveillance coverage, and maintenance protocols reflect the facility?s ongoing investment in safety and operational efficiency.

This announcement marks a continued effort by Anthem Self Storage to align its offerings with the specific needs of the Everett region. By remaining locally managed, the business maintains a unique connection with the community and is able to respond quickly to changing demands. Its team frequently engages with customers to assess satisfaction and identify opportunities for service improvements.

The availability of secure self-storage services in the extended service area is expected to play a valuable role in supporting the flexibility and functionality of everyday life in Everett and its neighbouring communities. Whether residents are making room for new family members, navigating a career move, or simply organizing their lives, Anthem Self Storage provides a safe and accessible way to manage belongings outside the home or office.

For more information about secure self-storage services and availability, individuals and businesses in Everett, Cascade View, and Twin Creeks are encouraged to contact Anthem Self Storage directly through its official communication channels.
