

MJ TECHNOLOGY & SOLUTIONS, LLC
— I.T. SIMPLIFIED —

Computer, Tablet, Laptop And Custom PC Components Now Available Through Products Site

February 04, 2016

February 04, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

MJ Technology & Solutions, LLC has launched a products site that is designed to help in the procurement of needed IT related items. This is part of the company's public commitment with regards to customer service. The site has been specifically designed for business customers but general customers are also welcome to use the new service. Full details are available at <http://www.mjtechs.net/>.

David from MJ Technology & Solutions, LCC says: "Our list of available products is now very extensive, and some of our customers were mentioning that it could be difficult to find the products they were looking for. We have improved our website, therefore, to include a full products page with various categories and search facilities."

As part of their ongoing commitment to customer service, the company has also launched their Facebook page. This can be accessed through <https://www.facebook.com/mjtechsolutions/>. The page, while having only recently been launched, is already attracting a lot of followers. It is an opportunity for people to engage MJ Technology & Solutions, LLC in conversation, to ask questions and to remain up to date with industry news.

People have also used the Facebook page to leave reviews about the company, their products and the service they have received. "Thank you for the quick response and remote support," says Kody S. "My PC is running much better now that MJ is monitoring my PC. Business class services at home. Thinking of using this service for my laptop and phone."

Upon discovering that customers were very appreciative of the opportunities the Facebook page offered them, MJ Technologies & Solutions, LLC has extended their social media campaign and has also joined Twitter. Their Twitter page can be accessed through <https://twitter.com/MJTecs>. This page, as the Facebook page, is also attracting many followers. Full details about new product launches, special offers and more are also shared through this page.

Now that the products page is completely live and operational, people have the opportunity to find the products they need with great ease. The list is truly extensive and includes everything that could be needed for computer, tablet, laptop and custom PC components.

###

For more information about MJ Technology & Solutions, LLC, contact the company here: MJ Technology & Solutions, LLC David 801-783-6750 info@mjtecs.com

MJ Technology & Solutions, LLC

Utah business with prompt and unique procurement of IT hardware and software products. We have an extensive product line to help local IT professionals keep businesses running.

Website: <http://www.mjtecs.net/>

Email: info@mjtecs.com

Phone: 801-783-6750

Powered by PressAdvantage.com