

Local Recovery Center Unveils Critical Insights on Cocaine Psychosis

May 27, 2025

May 27, 2025 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Orange County, CA ? Pacific Sands Recovery Center, a leading addiction treatment center, provides in-depth information on cocaine psychosis, a severe mental health condition that can cause hallucinations, delusions, and paranoia.

Cocaine psychosis is a dangerous and potentially long-lasting side effect of cocaine use. According to reports, between 50 and 75% of people who take cocaine will experience psychotic symptoms, which in some cases persist even after use stops. The center emphasizes the urgency of early intervention to prevent these symptoms from progressing into a chronic mental health condition. Left untreated, cocaine psychosis can severely impair an individual?s ability to function, often leading to hospitalization, long-term psychiatric care, and a significant decline in quality of life. The center urges individuals, families, and healthcare providers to recognize early warning signs.

A recent blog post on the Pacific Sands website states, ?Cocaine psychosis can last from a few hours to a few days after you last took cocaine. Retaking cocaine will increase the chances that it continues longer. If someone is going through cocaine withdrawal, psychosis might last longer. This is because, during cocaine withdrawal, symptoms like paranoia are possible. Suppose you were already experiencing this before withdrawing from the substance. In that case, it might result in those symptoms continuing until it has naturally been removed from your body.?

Symptoms of cocaine-induced psychosis include hallucinations, intense paranoia, and delusions. These can emerge after short or long-term use and are influenced by dosage, frequency, and a person's mental health history. In more severe cases, an individual may develop what is known as cocaine-induced psychotic disorder (CIPD).

During cocaine use disorder treatment, you will work with mental health specialists who will guarantee that you remain safe and comfortable and have the tools necessary to accomplish your recovery goals. If you experience psychosis while in treatment, your care providers will ensure your stabilization and clarity. Cocaine and cocaine-induced psychosis can result in several consequences to your health, career, family, and other areas of your life. Seeking individualized treatment with your needs in mind will empower you to maintain clarity while boosting your capacity to live the life you have always wanted, the blog continues.

Treatment for cocaine psychosis typically involves medically supervised detox, psychiatric evaluation, and a combination of medication and therapy.

Pacific Sands Recovery Center specializes in creating individualized care plans to address substance use disorders. Their comprehensive approach includes cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT), relapse prevention planning, and trauma-informed care. With the rise of stimulant use worldwide, the center aims to inform the public, healthcare providers, and families about the signs of cocaine psychosis and the importance of treatment.

Pacific Sands Recovery Center is located in Orange County, California, and provides substance use treatment tailored to the needs of each client. With a maximum of six clients at a time, the center fosters a highly personalized setting where individuals receive the focused attention and care they deserve. They specialize in addressing both addiction and co-occurring mental health conditions, through a combination of detox, therapy, and long-term support. With a focus on safety, confidentiality, and compassion, Pacific Sands offers a structured and supportive environment for individuals seeking lasting recovery from substances.

To learn more about Pacific Sands Recovery, call them at 949-426-7962 or visit their website.

Pacific Sands: The first step towards a new life.

###

For more information about Pacific Sands Recovery Center, contact the company here: Pacific Sands Recovery Center Chase Brantley 949-426-7962 info@pacificsandsrecovery.com 1909 W Carlton Pl Santa Ana, CA 92704

Pacific Sands Recovery Center

At Pacific Sands, in Orange County, California, we understand that clients are in addiction treatment to learn how to live their lives differently and we don't expect them to have all the answers.

Website: <https://pacificsandsrecovery.com/>

Email: info@pacificsandsrecovery.com

Phone: 949-426-7962

Powered by PressAdvantage.com