

Go Industries Inc. Unveils Revolutionary Grille Guard for Medium Duty Truck Owners

June 19, 2025

Richardson, TX - June 19, 2025 -
Go Industries Inc., a well-respected name in truck accessories and custom manufacturing, is excited to announce its newest product: the grille guard for medium duty truck. This new offering is crafted to meet the rigorous demands of fleet vehicles, law enforcement vehicles, and individual truck owners, focusing on both detail and functionality.

Go Industries has been a leader in creating products since 1978, enhancing vehicle appearances while providing tough protection. Their new medium duty grille guard continues this tradition, offering strong protection without the hassle of cutting or drilling during installation. Additionally, its design allows easy access to the hood for maintenance and checks with forward articulation. The grille guard includes an integrated winch tray that can handle up to a 16.5k winch, fitting most brands to meet diverse needs.

"At Go Industries, we're focused on creating products that bring together functionality and strength," says a company representative. "The grille guard for medium duty truck highlights our dedication to providing practical solutions that are simple to install and maintain."

Made in the United States, the grille guard fits truck models like the Chevrolet C4500, Chevy 6500, Ford F750, F650, and International CV515. It features a strong welded frame with 1.9-inch headlight Brush Guards made from 14-gauge tubing and 2.5-inch center cross tubes, offering reliable defense. The laser-cut center screen, made from 18-gauge material, gives the guard a stylish finish while maintaining its rugged look, all protected by a black textured powder coating for weather resistance.

For a complete overview of their extensive offerings, customers can visit the Go Industries website where they can see a broad array of products including Rancher Grille Guards, BigTex Grille Guards, and more.

Go Industries doesn't stop at grille guards; the company also innovates in other truck accessories. Their product line includes headlight protection, airflow tailgates, and heavy-duty headache racks known for their durability and security. These products are meticulously crafted to withstand demanding daily use.

"The new additions to our truck accessory lineup reflect direct feedback from clients and changes in vehicle enhancement needs," a Go Industries spokesperson notes. "We aim to meet the various needs of our customers, offering both custom manufacturing solutions and standard accessories for enhanced vehicle protection."
