

UntitledBooks Website Relunched To Provide Info On Authors And Books

February 04, 2016

February 04, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Untitled Books, a business in Bochara, VIC, Australia, is proud to announce the relaunch of their website. The website now provides a wealth of information on various books and authors. It reviews a range of publications, encouraging people to read more and to share their own experiences with books as well.

Perr Ophelia from Untitled Books says: "Reading is our passion. Whenever you pick up a book, you enter a story that was written just for you. This is one in which your imagination can go wild, where you can meet new people and be a part of a different adventure every time. We want to share this passion with the world, by promoting new and upcoming writers, as well as bestselling authors that people have come to know and love over the years. Our new website is a first step towards trying to achieve that."

The main focus of the Untitled Books website (<http://untitledbooks.com/>) is to promote new authors and review various books. However, an entire section of the site is also dedicated to news in relation to books and authors. If, for instance, a book signing session is organized somewhere, information about this will also be included on the site. In so doing, the business enables readers to get up close and personal with their favorite authors, hearing the stories from their own mouths as well.

Those who have used the website have been full of praise. "I love book review sites like this one," says Anthony K. "There are just too many books to choose from and reading reviews gives you an opportunity to only choose the ones that you know you are going to love. I literally devour books, so this type of website is more than a hobby, it's a necessity. And I like how they also include news, as that is an often forgotten part of the world of authors."

Untitled Books aims to add new book reviews to their website on a regular basis. They have also included a Lonely Hearts section to their site. This is an opportunity for people to find kindred spirits, either with a love for a certain author or genre, or just reading in general.

###

For more information about Untitled Books, contact the company here: Untitled Books Perr Ophelia +61353597404 opheliap823@gmail.com 19 Bailey Street, Bochara VIC 3301, Australia

Untitled Books

Stories, articles, recommendations and beautiful books from extraordinary writers.

Website: <http://www.untitledbooks.com/>

Email: opheliap823@gmail.com

Phone: +61353597404

Powered by PressAdvantage.com