Executive Auto Glass Expands Mobile Windshield Repair Services to Additional North Georgia Communities

June 06, 2025

CUMMING, GA - June 06, 2025 -
Cumming, GA - Executive Auto Glass, a mobile auto glass repair and replacement provider headquartered in Cumming, Georgia, has announced the expansion of its core service offering-on-site windshield repair-to additional locations across North Georgia. The development broadens access to a service that has become synonymous with convenience, safety, and technical reliability.

Founded in 2009, Executive Auto Glass has built its reputation on prompt, professional service delivered directly to customers? homes or offices. With more than 15,000 completed service calls and a team of certified technicians trained through nationally recognized institutions, the company?s mobile operation is structured to minimize downtime and maximize customer safety on the road.

The latest expansion brings windshield repair services to previously unserved communities including Milton, Peachtree Corners, Lilburn, and Dacula. These areas join an already extensive service map that includes Alpharetta, Dawsonville, Gainesville, Roswell, and Suwanee. According to the company, the move responds to increased regional demand for mobile repair options, driven by factors such as heavy commuter traffic, rising vehicle ownership, and the continued importance of limiting in-person contact.

?Windshield damage is often unpredictable, and waiting to address it can make things worse,? said Tim Morrell, owner of Executive Auto Glass. ?Our goal has always been to make the repair process as convenient and effective as possible. Expanding into these additional areas means more drivers across North Georgia can get certified service without leaving their driveway.?

The company's service model is designed to eliminate many of the typical barriers that prevent drivers from repairing windshield damage quickly. Rather than requiring customers to visit a physical location, Executive Auto Glass dispatches fully equipped mobile units to handle repairs on-site. Technicians use advanced resin injection technology to repair minor chips and cracks, preserving the integrity of the glass and maintaining important safety features like structural strength and airbag support.

When damage exceeds repair limits, the company also offers full windshield replacements using OEM-grade glass and adhesives that meet or exceed federal safety standards. All repairs and replacements are backed by a lifetime workmanship warranty, which covers potential issues such as air leaks, water intrusion, or seal failure.

Technicians servicing the new areas are part of the same trained and insured team that has been providing service in Executive Auto Glass?s established regions. Each team member carries certifications from the Equalizer AutoGlass Academy and uses tools calibrated to a variety of makes and models.

According to industry data, windshield damage from road debris, seasonal temperature shifts, and highway travel remains one of the most common vehicle maintenance concerns in the United States. Executive Auto Glass aims to reduce the risk associated with delayed repairs by offering responsive, mobile solutions that meet both the technical demands of modern vehicles and the logistical needs of everyday drivers.

Customers in the newly added service zones can expect the same level of professionalism and efficiency that has made the company a trusted provider for over a decade. The business also continues to maintain direct relationships with major insurance carriers, simplifying the claims process for customers. In many cases, the company handles the paperwork and billing directly with insurers, reducing out-of-pocket expenses and streamlining approvals.

Hayes emphasized that this expansion aligns with the company?s long-term vision of offering high-quality glass care wherever it?s needed in North Georgia. ?We know what it means to serve local communities because we?re part of them,? he said. ?This isn?t just about coverage on a map-it?s about showing up, doing the job right, and standing behind the work.?

Executive Auto Glass remains committed to strict quality standards, prompt arrival times, and transparent communication. Appointments can be scheduled online, with flexible time slots designed to accommodate working professionals, families, and emergency situations alike.

As the company integrates the new areas into its scheduling system, local residents in Milton, Peachtree Corners, Lilburn, Dacula, and surrounding towns can begin booking windshield repair appointments through the company?s website. Technicians will be available for most locations on a next-day or next-day basis, depending on scheduling volume.

With over 15 years of field experience, certified training across all major vehicle types, and a growing footprint in the North Georgia region, Executive Auto Glass continues to evolve while staying grounded in a clear mission: protecting drivers by delivering skilled, mobile windshield repair wherever and whenever it?s needed.
