

Happy Pot GmbH Launches Innovative Anonymous Donation Solution Transforming Swiss Fundraising

June 10, 2025

Zürich, ZH - June 10, 2025 -
Happy Pot GmbH is now introducing its new anonymous donation solution in Switzerland. This service offers a fresh way to handle online fundraising. With this platform, users can create fundraising pots for a wide range of events and causes, benefiting charities, NGOs, and individuals. Key features of Happy Pot include secure payments, anonymous donations, and strong privacy measures. By using encrypted transactions, the platform keeps all user information safe and complies with Swiss data protection laws.

The company emphasizes its dedication to keeping track of funds transparency without giving up donor anonymity. Happy Pot supports multiple languages, making it accessible to a wider audience across different regions in Switzerland. This means Swiss users can participate in smooth fundraising efforts and contribute to important causes while keeping their identities private.

"We're transforming how Switzerland approaches online fundraising by removing financial barriers and ensuring complete compliance with local regulations," said Habiba Alami, Founder of Happy Pot GmbH.

Alami also pointed out that the platform's focus on privacy doesn't mean keeping secrets. Instead, it builds trust by allowing donors to give anonymously while organizers remain clear about how funds are used.

Happy Pot's flexible system makes setting up fundraising activities simple for users. Whether it's for birthdays, weddings, or charitable events, users can easily create pots. Each pot can be adjusted to fit specific needs, aligning with the user's objectives. Detailed instructions and FAQs are available at https://happypot.ch/en/faq to guide users from account creation to fund withdrawal.

Secure transactions are at the heart of the platform, thanks to a partnership with Stripe, ensuring financial activities are protected from breaches. The company's dedication to privacy and data protection shows its commitment to a secure digital fundraising environment. Only platform users have access to the finances collected in their pots, enhancing trust further.

Happy Pot has stirred up traditional fundraising methods that often charge upfront fees by having no setup costs and applying a success-based fee structure. This method benefits organizations of all sizes, particularly small NGOs, as they only pay when they're successful. It allows groups with limited resources to save significantly.

Supporting local communities is a main goal for Happy Pot. The platform engages Swiss schools, sports clubs, and parenting initiatives in digital fundraising. By making the process easy, Happy Pot enables non-technical users to take part effectively, helping these groups reach their financial targets.

Besides community support, Happy Pot's technology also offers an excellent user experience. Designed primarily for mobile devices and with integration capabilities, the platform is easy to use on various gadgets. The user interface innovations by Happy Pot set a new benchmark for digital fundraising platforms in the Swiss tech scene.

"The combination of beautiful design and powerful functionality is crucial for us. We've built a platform that is as enjoyable to use as it is effective," said Habiba Alami, highlighting the company's commitment to balancing aesthetics and usability.

As online fundraising grows more popular, Happy Pot differentiates itself by focusing on privacy and security. The company is committed to offering a smooth and ethical fundraising experience, shown in its wide range of services and solutions. With a focus on transparency and innovation, Happy Pot aims to redefine digital fundraising in Switzerland, empowering users to positively impact their communities while keeping their identities protected.
