March 10, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Express Certified Professional Staffing has announced that they have been named one of the best employment agencies in Oregon for their continued dedication to their clients and the community. This business in Tualatin, OR, is a full service staffing agency that continually exceeds expectations. They do this by providing services to companies within their community, while at the same time helping job seekers find work.

Katrina Bryan from Express Certified Professional Staffing says: "We believe in the foundation of working to better our community as a whole by supporting local organizations and participating in community activities whenever we can. We strive to find only the best possible candidates for our clients, so Portland businesses can bolster their economy. This also helps our associates, who find jobs with local companies and can become the best employees they can be."

The agency has a huge variety of jobs on offer for people of various skills and experience. Candidates are put through a rigorous testing and vetting process, so that they are only put forward for jobs that they are actually suitable for. One of the currently available positions is for a health and safety manager, for instance, for which requirements have been clearly set out. The agency encourages people to register with them as soon as possible in order to be considered for the position.

The work done by Express Certified Professional Staffing has been very positively reviewed by their many clients. "I started working with Katrina and her team a little while ago, and things have been going great," says Cassandra B. "They really do their best to try and find higher quality work for people who are looking to better their careers. For the amount of work they put in alone, I'd recommend them."

Those who are looking for employment are encouraged to contact the agency as soon as possible. They will then go through the process of checking resumes and credentials, after which the agency will get to work in helping them find jobs. In so doing, they aim to support the local economy and the community as a whole. People are also encouraged to keep their eye on the website for further job opportunities.
