Ron's Amazing Products, a business in Catonsville, Maryland, is proud to announce that they have relaunched their eBay store to feature their spy pen camera and other products. Originally launched in October 2014, the company had decided to focus more strongly on their own website and on their Amazon selling page. However, now that those have been established, they have returned to eBay as well, where their flagship spy pen camera and other products are now listed. The eBay store can be accessed at <http://www.ebay.com/usr/ronsamazing>.

Ronald Hoff, founder of Ron's Amazing Products, says: "eBay is a really powerful selling platform and one that, I'm sorry to say, we have been ignoring a bit over the years. However, we're back with a bang and we're particularly happy to see that people are already starting to leave positive reviews as well. Naturally, we will also continue to use our other channels for our customers who have preferences for those."

Since relaunching on eBay, the company has only received positive reviews. "Great ebayer," says one reviewer. "A+++++. Pleasure doing business with." Other reviews emulate the same sentiments, stating that the delivery time was very fast, often faster than expected, and that there were no problems with either the item or the company as a whole.

Ron's Amazing Products is fully committed to customer service. It was at the request of customers that they started to take eBay into consideration again. They have also launched a YouTube channel, which includes vital information on basic troubleshooting and how to best use the company's various products. These videos have been very positively received as well, as they explain things in more visual detail than a regular manual is able to do. The videos can be accessed at <https://www.youtube.com/user/RonsAmazingProducts>.

Their spy camera is their most popular product to date, but the company also sells other items, including the Amazing Forskolin supplement, which has been proven to be equally popular. Both products are now available through the company's eBay store and have been receiving positive reviews. The products continue to be available on Amazon and through the store's personal website as well. Information on the products can also be found at the company website at <http://ronsamazingproducts.com>.
