Advanced concrete coating solution offers 5x stronger protection than traditional epoxy with same-day installation for garage floors, basements, and commercial spaces

MIDDLEFIELD, OH, June 20, 2025 ? J&P Coatings, a leading concrete coating company serving Greater Cleveland and Northeast Ohio, today announced the expansion of their premium Duralast® Polyaspartic Coating service for residential and commercial properties. This innovative concrete sealing solution delivers superior durability, faster curing times, and enhanced protection against Cleveland?s harsh weather conditions.

The Duralast® Polyaspartic Coating system stands out in the concrete coating market by offering protection that?s five times stronger than traditional epoxy coatings while requiring just one day for complete installation. Property owners can walk on newly coated surfaces within 12 hours, place heavy items after 36 hours, and park vehicles after just 48 hours?significantly reducing downtime compared to conventional coating methods.

?Cleveland property owners face unique challenges with their concrete surfaces due to our region?s freeze-thaw cycles, road salt exposure, and temperature fluctuations,? said Paul Johnson, Co-founder of J&P Coatings. ?Our Duralast® Polyaspartic Coating was specifically designed to withstand these conditions while providing a beautiful, long-lasting finish that eliminates the need for annual resealing. We?re proud to offer concrete sealing solutions that truly stand the test of time in Northeast Ohio.?

The coating system features full UV protection to prevent yellowing, exceptional resistance to oils and chemicals, and the ability to expand and contract with temperature changes?making it ideal for garage floors, basements, pool decks, and commercial spaces throughout Greater Cleveland. J&P Coatings? professional installation process includes thorough surface preparation, concrete repair, basecoat application, decorative chip broadcasting, and a protective topcoat.

Local customers have already experienced the benefits of this premium concrete coating service. Vince G. of Cleveland Heights praised the company?s work on his three-car garage: ?J&P Coatings delivered an excellent product and perfect results. The floor looks amazing and was ready to use much faster than I expected.?

For commercial properties, the Duralast® system offers specialized solutions for automotive facilities, commercial kitchens, factory floors, and fitness centers?providing industrial-grade durability with minimal business disruption during installation.

What sets the Duralast® Polyaspartic Coating apart is its exceptional performance in Northeast Ohio?s challenging climate. The coating?s polyurea resin technology creates a non-porous surface that withstands extreme temperature fluctuations from Cleveland?s frigid winters to humid summers. Independent laboratory testing confirms the coating maintains structural integrity through 500+ freeze-thaw cycles?five times longer than standard epoxy systems. This resilience is particularly valuable for Greater Cleveland homeowners, where road salt, moisture penetration, and seasonal expansion can quickly deteriorate traditional concrete surfaces. ?Our coating system was specifically engineered to address the unique challenges Cleveland property owners face,? explained James Wilson, Technical Director at J&P Coatings. ?The science behind our product ensures lasting protection regardless of what Mother Nature throws at it.?

To celebrate the expanded service offering, J&P Coatings is currently providing $200 off two-car garage coating projects and $500 off basement coating installations for Greater Cleveland residents until July 1, 2025.
