

Philadelphia Plastic Surgeon Dr. Brannon Claytor Named a 2025 Top Doctor by Philadelphia Magazine

June 24, 2025

PHILADELPHIA - June 24, 2025 -

Philadelphia, PA?Claytor Noone Plastic Surgery is proud to announce that double board-certified plastic surgeon Dr. R. Brannon Claytor has been named a 2025 Top Doctor by Philadelphia Magazine for the eighth consecutive year. This honor places Dr. Claytor among the best plastic surgeons in Philadelphia and recognizes his ongoing commitment to excellence in patient care and surgical innovation.

The annual Top Doctors list, curated in partnership with Castle Connolly, represents a select group of physicians who have been nominated by their peers and thoroughly vetted by a physician-led research team. The list, which will appear in the May 2025 issue of Philadelphia Magazine, acknowledges more than 2,500 doctors across various specialties. For patients, it?s one of the most trusted and respected guides to finding top-tier medical professionals?those who consistently provide outstanding clinical care and demonstrate compassion, professionalism, and skill.

?To be recognized again as a Top Doctor is a deeply appreciated honor,? said Dr. Claytor. ?It?s meaningful to know that my peers recognize the dedication and care we bring to each patient at our practice. Ultimately, our success is measured by the confidence and happiness our patients gain from their results.?

Castle Connolly?s selection process stands out for its rigor and credibility. Unlike directories based solely on patient reviews, Castle Connolly relies on peer nominations, comprehensive evaluation of professional credentials, and in-depth review by its research team. Factors considered include education, hospital appointments, research activity, leadership, and reputation among colleagues. Dr. Claytor?s inclusion speaks to his respected standing in the medical community, as well as his commitment to both clinical excellence and warm, personal patient care.

At Claytor Noone Plastic Surgery, Dr. Claytor is known for his natural-looking results and advanced techniques that prioritize both aesthetic precision and patient comfort. He is a nationally recognized expert in deep plane facelift surgery and pioneered a widely sought-after drain-free tummy tuck technique designed to improve the surgical recovery experience.

This newest recognition from Philadelphia Magazine adds to a growing list of accolades and reinforces Dr. Claytor?s status as a trusted leader in aesthetic surgery. Earlier this year, he earned the Tiffany Award for Best Scientific Presentation from The Aesthetic Society for his innovative LaMiNa facial rejuvenation technique, a procedure combining CO2 laser resurfacing, microneedling, and nanofat grafting to restore smoother, more youthful skin with minimal downtime. Dr. Claytor was also featured in a Wall Street Journal article in February discussing Ozempic and Body Lift plastic surgery.

?Our practice thrives because of the patients who trust us with their care, and the commitment to excellence our team brings to every procedure,? Dr. Claytor said. ?We?re proud to be a resource for patients seeking safe aesthetic treatments that not only enhance their appearance, but also renew their confidence, and we will continue to use the most advanced surgical and non-surgical techniques to achieve natural-looking outcomes that last.?

Dr. Claytor is board-certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery and serves as Chief of Plastic Surgery at Main Line Health. A Philadelphia-area native, he has been caring for patients on the Main Line since 2014 at his Philadelphia plastic surgery practice and continues to serve as a mentor, educator, and innovator in the field of aesthetic surgery.
