

New Article Release by Atticus Injury Law: Transforming mTBI Litigation Strategies

August 05, 2025

Irvine, California - August 05, 2025 -
Atticus Injury Law is excited to share a comprehensive article written by senior trial counsel James G. Perry and the firm's leader, Atticus N. Wegman. The article, titled "Developing Mild Traumatic Brain Injury (mTBI) Cases: Strategies for Success," offers valuable insights and practical advice for legal professionals handling mTBI claims.

Drawing from years of trial experience and expertise in brain injury litigation, Perry and Wegman provide their insights in this detailed piece. They address common misunderstandings about mTBI and present the latest guidelines from the American Congress of Rehabilitation Medicine (ACRM) for 2023. The article also includes strategies tailored to help attorneys handle these cases effectively, aiming to serve as a useful tool for navigating the complexities of mTBI litigation.

James G. Perry, known for his background in mechanical engineering and extensive trial experience, has greatly impacted the field of personal injury law. His involvement in various professional groups, including the Orange County Trial Lawyers Association and the Consumer Attorneys of California, shows his dedication to staying at the forefront of his field.

Atticus Wegman highlighted the importance of their collaboration by stating, "James brings unmatched expertise to our practice. Together, we crafted an article that's not only informative but also useful for attorneys. It shares the most recent mTBI research and offers techniques vital for handling cases successfully."

As a personal injury lawyer in Irvine, James G. Perry contributes to Atticus Injury Law's dedicated team, focusing on client-centered representation. This involves prioritizing client needs and concerns in every case they work on.

The article aligns with Atticus Injury Law's ongoing mission to spread knowledge and deepen understanding of personal injury law. Led by Wegman, the firm continuously seeks to innovate, offering free consultations and direct communication to build trust and transparency with clients. T

Perry and Wegman emphasize the significance of incorporating the latest mTBI research into legal practice. This not only challenges existing misconceptions but also sets a new standard for case management. Their strategies demonstrate how attorneys can use the updated ACRM guidelines to more effectively advocate for their clients.

Atticus Injury Law is well-known for its achievements and successes in client representation and is based in Irvine, California. Renowned for securing substantial settlements and expanding its services to cover a range of personal injury cases, the firm remains dedicated to helping those affected by incidents leading to mTBI and other injuries.

The firm's recent releases underline its commitment to justice and achieving positive client outcomes. The collaboration between Perry and Wegman strengthens the firm's reputation as a leader in personal injury law.

For legal professionals hoping to deepen their understanding of mTBI cases, the article by Perry and Wegman serves as an essential resource. It not only clarifies the complexities involved in mTBI litigation but also provides a practical framework for attorneys who aspire to excel in this demanding area.

Atticus Injury Law encourages legal professionals and those interested in personal injury law to read the article and employ the practices discussed to enhance their approach in injury litigation. This publication reinforces the firm's dedication to leading with innovation, knowledge, and a client-focused mindset.

###

For more information about Atticus Injury Law, contact the company here:Atticus Injury LawAtticus Wegman(949) 694-9000info@atticusinjurylaw.com2211 Michelson Dr Suite 900, Irvine, CA 92612

Atticus Injury Law

At Atticus Injury Law, we pride ourselves on client-centered representation?meaning that your needs, concerns, and story are all at the forefront of our work.

Website: https://atticusinjurylaw.com

Email: info@atticusinjurylaw.com

Phone: (949) 694-9000