Durham, DH - Simply Pets Online, a top retailer on Amazon.com, has recently expanded their product line to include a new slow feed cat and puppy / small breed dog bowl. This new slow feed bowl joins their current product line that consists of a range of Pet Health and Wellness related products designed to be easy to use and to work every time, with the experience of over 30 years in veterinary practice.

Simply Pets Online added the slow feed cat bowl to their current successful product line because it was a natural fit with their other products. Founded by two active veterinarians, they saw a need for products that would help the overall health of pets ? from nail clippers, eco-friendly dog poop bags (BioPoops) to food bowls.

The slow feed cat bowl is highly durable and very effective for promoting healthy slow eating which helps to prevent obesity, bloating, regurgitation and overeating. The cat food bowl is also eco-friendly due to the fact that is manufactured from natural food and pet safe bamboo fiber and rice husk material. It is biodegradable, nontoxic, shatterproof and dishwasher safe in bright modern colors.

The cat fool bowl also makes every meal time fun and challenging, the way nature intended. Although it is a slow feeding cat bowl, it was carefully designed to slow down feeding but not so frustrating that the cat gives up.

?I have two cats and they are both overweight. A friend recommended these slow feeder cat bowls and my cats love them! They are both slowly losing weight as well, which makes them much healthier. I think they also find it fun to eat as well,? said Brittany, a happy customer.

?We are excited to add our slow feed cat bowls to our current product line for pets. It took us some time to get them manufactured because we wanted to ensure that they were not only effective for the cat, but eco-friendly as well. ?

Simply Pets Online?s new slow feeder cat bowls, along with their current product line, can be found exclusively on Amazon.com.
