February 12, 2016

February 12, 2016 -
Bren & Mike, a highly popular duo of super affiliates, have released an update of their review of the IPAS2 system in view of the fact that the Empower Network is now in the final phases of merging with the said system. Affiliates of both the old IPAS2 system and the Empower Network have already said that they love the new platform, which has greatly improved since the merger started. The online business opportunity is now said to be much easier to help people get started, and it is easier to achieve great results as well.

Because the IPAS2 platform will soon shut down, Bren & Mike have already updated their review of the IPAS2, which now reflects the latest changes. Mike Marko, of Bren & Mike, says: "The IPAS 2 System, or Internet Prospect Acceleration System, was setup to accelerate your ability to prospect new business into your series of sales conversion emails and system. In other words, it helps to get people to purchase into your business using automation and coaches. It has seamlessly merged with the Empower Network, making it even greater. This is one example where the whole is much more than the simple addition of the parts."

IPAS 2 offers a number of key features. Very simply put, it offers a system, leverage and automation. Bren & Mike have also highlighted the different levels that people are able to sign up for, and what the benefits of these levels are. They also make sure that people understand that, while the highest and most expensive level may deliver the biggest results, the lower levels are also beneficial.

Those who have worked with the IPAS 2 system and the Empower Network through Bren & Mike have been very happy with the results they have achieved. "Really good info you share here, and looking forward to the launch of iPAS2, plus other exciting things within Empower as well," says Lynn B.

The IPAS2 review is perhaps one of the most popular reviews that Bren & Mike have posted. They hope that it will help more people become successful online entrepreneurs like themselves. They encourage anyone to read the review and contact them should they have any further questions.
