July 02, 2025

ENDICOTT, NY - July 02, 2025 -

Ithaca, NY ? Ductless Directory has officially Crowned Top Ductless HVAC Contractor ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc., recognizing the family-owned company as the Top Ductless Heat Pump Contractor in Ithaca New York for its exceptional service, expertise, and dedication to energy-efficient comfort solutions.

Serving Ithaca, Endicott, and the surrounding Finger Lakes and Southern Tier areas, ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. has spent over 60 years helping homeowners achieve reliable, year-round comfort with expertly designed and installed ductless mini-split heat pump systems. Known for its ?high service without high pressure? approach, ANC remains one of the few local HVAC companies that keeps all work in-house, ensuring accountability, precision, and consistent craftsmanship on every project.

Ductless systems are gaining popularity across Central New York, where weather swings demand flexible heating and cooling solutions that save energy while maintaining consistent indoor comfort. Whether tackling those persistent hot and cold spots in older homes, adding air conditioning to spaces without existing ductwork, or designing a full-home zoned system, ANC?s NATE-certified technicians ensure each system is professionally sized and installed to deliver optimal performance.

?ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. truly represents what it means to be a Ductless Heat Pump Contractor in Ithaca New York,? said Michelle LaFrance, Founder of Ductless Directory. ?They combine the personal commitment of a family business with the technical training and manufacturer partnerships needed to deliver the best results for homeowners.?

ANC is the largest Amana/Daikin dealer in upstate New York, providing homeowners access to high-performance systems designed to lower utility bills and reduce environmental impact. With increasing demand for green home comfort, ductless heat pumps are emerging as the preferred choice for energy-smart households in the region, offering whisper-quiet operation and advanced zoning to maximize comfort while minimizing waste.

?Our mission has always been to serve the community with integrity and high-quality craftsmanship,? said Lloyd Knecht, President of ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. ?We take pride in helping homeowners enjoy consistent comfort while reducing their energy usage. Our team understands the unique climate challenges in Ithaca and surrounding areas, and we ensure each installation is tailored to meet those needs with precision.?

Homeowners working with ANC can take advantage of current manufacturer rebates and government tax incentives that make transitioning to ductless heat pump systems more affordable. The ANC team assists clients with understanding available rebates, paperwork, and financing options to help homeowners move forward confidently in upgrading their home?s comfort and efficiency.

ANC?s expansive Endicott showroom, part of a 30,000-square-foot operations center, offers customers the opportunity to see ductless heat pump technology firsthand and discuss options with knowledgeable staff. The company?s services extend beyond ductless installations, including traditional heating and cooling systems, indoor air quality solutions like UV purification and dehumidification, smart thermostats, and insulation improvements, ensuring a holistic approach to energy-efficient home comfort.

As more homeowners seek reliable, sustainable comfort solutions, ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. remains a trusted leader in the region, prioritizing customer satisfaction, technical expertise, and environmentally responsible solutions.

For those looking to improve home comfort with a trusted local partner, ANC Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. is the logical choice to call.
