San Diego, CA business Local SEO Profit is proud to announce that they have extended the geographical reach of their SEO services. While previously having focused in certain cities in California, they now also accept clients from Denver, CO. The business is considering opening a full time office there, although they currently continue to offer their services from their San Diego office.

Local SEO Profit's Roderick Luna says: "One of our main focuses is on localized SEO. This is a very strong tool in the world of internet marketing today and helps to drive customers to businesses both online and on the high street. Our work has been very successful in San Diego, and we're happy to now also add Denver to our list of geographical reaches. We look forward to working with many companies across this area."

The SEO service provider offers all interested parties and prospective clients a free SEO analysis. This will provide them with a report on what their current online standing is and what they could do in order to improve on that. Additionally, the report demonstrates how the tools and strategies offered by the company can affect them in terms of their online domination.

The goal for the company is to ensure their clients achieve the first page of Google. They want to make sure their clients see a significant increase in both leads and traffic. Ultimately, this will lead to more sales. To do so, they address all the important areas of SEO and online marketing, from website design to paid search advertising strategies.

The work they have done across the San Diego area has been very positively reviewed and it is expected that the same will be true for Denver. "I have worked with Local SEO Profit for quite some time now and couldn't be happier," says one customer. "It all started with their free SEO audit, which I was so impressed with that I signed up straight away. Now, my website is on the first page of Google and my customer database has increased tremendously."

Interested companies are encouraged to contact Local SEO Profit as soon as possible.
