Las Vegas, NV business Geeks N Gear is proud to announce that they have extended their distribution line, having created a brand new online store. While they will continue to sell through existing platforms, including Amazon, the company now has its own online presence. The new store allows the company to offer its customers a larger variety of products, including t-shirts, phone cases, USB chargers and cables. Furthermore, launching their own online selling platform means that they now offer shipment not just to mainland US, but also to the rest of the world.

Stacie Standifer from Geeks N Gear says: "We have been working together with Amazon for some time now and couldn't be happier with the service. Furthermore, we know that our customers appreciate it as well. However, we felt that we would be able to better serve even more customers, truly going global, by adding our own online store as well. Naturally, people will continue to be able to find our products on Amazon too."

Geeks N Gear is excited to be able to offer customers an additional outlet for its wildly popular products such as the 17-Piece iPhone Repair kit and the BumpIt Bluetooth Speakers. They are adding new products weekly to the site and will continue to offer the same gold standard customer service that they've always offered.

The iPhone repair kit is one of the company's most popular items, but people are now also becoming interested in the iPhone screwdriver, so much so, in fact, that Geeks N Gear has launched a marketing video that demonstrates what the screwdriver is for and how it can best be used. The video is available on YouTube but it can also be accessed through the new website.

All Geeks N Gear Products have been very positively reviewed by their many clients. "I've purchased a few cell phone repair kits in my days, and this one is by far the best," says B.D. Peterson. "Way better quality than others I've had and the tools just seemed to fit their intended purpose (not some hack for a laptop repair). Overall, I'm very pleased to add this toolkit to my arsenal of products to keep our mobile phones running in tip-top shape. You can't go wrong with these products."
