July 29, 2025

ALPHARETTA, GA - July 29, 2025 -
Horst Shewmaker, LLC, a personal injury law firm located in Alpharetta, Georgia, is shining a spotlight on an important issue impacting motorcyclists across the state. Recent statistics have caught their attention. From 2015 to 2023, over 33,499 motorcycle accidents occurred in Georgia, resulting in 1,604 deaths. Even though motorcyclists make up just 3% of the vehicles on the road, they are involved in 11% of all traffic-related deaths. These numbers highlight a real need for advocacy and focused legal help for Georgia's motorcycle community.

Motorcyclists deal with unique dangers on the road, like being less visible, road hazards, and tough weather conditions. The situation worsens with a strong bias against them in the legal system, especially in personal injury cases. Insurance companies and others often try to blame the motorcyclist. This makes it crucial for injured riders to have an experienced Horst Shewmaker motorcycle accident attorney by their side.

Horst Shewmaker is at the forefront, helping accident victims with legal services specifically designed for motorcycle accident cases. Zachary S. Shewmaker mentions, "The unique challenges faced by motorcyclists in personal injury claims demand a specialized approach. Our firm is dedicated to overcoming biases and focusing on helmet laws and liability issues to build strong cases for our clients."

The firm's strategy includes a detailed investigation to prove who is at fault, tough negotiation techniques, and a goal to seek all possible compensation. They aim to cover both economic and non-economic damages so clients can recover all their losses. By focusing on expert witnesses' input, Horst Shewmaker strengthens each case to support their clients' rights and future.

Quick action after an accident is key, and the firm stresses this point. In Georgia, personal injury cases have a time limit, so it's important to act quickly to safeguard rights and create strong cases. Horst Shewmaker offers personalized attention to every case and works on a contingency fee basis, meaning clients pay legal fees only if they win. This eases the financial strain on clients dealing with the aftermath of an accident.

Expressing their dedication to Alpharetta, the firm stated, "Horst Shewmaker is committed to the community of Alpharetta. Our aim is to be a steadfast ally for motorcyclists and personal injury victims, providing them with the expert legal support they need."

Motorcycle accident victims often face complex insurance processes. Insurance claims for these accidents can be tough, so having seasoned legal advice is important. Horst Shewmaker walks clients through each step, from handling insurance claims to making sure settlements accurately reflect their injuries and damages.

Understanding helmet laws and their effect on determining fault in an accident is crucial. Riders wearing helmets might face different legal challenges than those without. The firm's deep knowledge helps shed light on these issues, giving their clients a strategic edge in court or during settlement talks.

With extensive expertise and a strong commitment to motorcycle accident victims, Horst Shewmaker is a prominent advocate for motorcyclists' rights in Georgia.
