Century Pools Introduces Complimentary 3D Inground Pool Design Service for Homeowners

September 25, 2025

Orangevale, CA - September 25, 2025 -
Century Pools, a family-owned pool construction company serving Northern California since 1964, has introduced a complimentary 3D design service that allows homeowners to visualize their dream pools before breaking ground. The new service represents a significant advancement in the planning process for residential pool projects, enabling clients to explore various design options and make informed decisions about their investments.

The 3D design service provides detailed renderings that showcase how different pool styles, sizes, and features will appear in specific backyard settings. Homeowners can review multiple configurations, including gunite, freeform, and geometric designs, while considering practical elements such as space limitations, landscaping integration, and accessibility requirements. The technology allows for real-time adjustments during consultation sessions, ensuring that final designs align perfectly with client expectations and property characteristics.

"This 3D visualization tool transforms the traditional pool planning experience by eliminating guesswork and helping families see exactly what they're investing in," said Patrick O'Neal, senior representative at Century

Pools. "We've found that when clients can actually see their future pool in three dimensions, complete with surrounding landscaping and hardscaping elements, they feel more confident about their decisions and often discover creative possibilities they hadn't previously considered."

The service addresses common concerns homeowners face when planning inground pool construction projects. Many clients struggle to envision how architectural drawings translate into finished pools, particularly when considering factors like elevation changes, sight lines from indoor living spaces, and integration with existing outdoor features. The 3D modeling technology provides clarity on these aspects while also demonstrating how different materials, finishes, and water features will appear in natural lighting conditions throughout the day.

Century Pools has integrated this visualization service into their standard consultation process without additional charges to clients. The company's design specialists work directly with homeowners to incorporate specific preferences, from lap lanes for fitness enthusiasts to shallow play areas for families with young children. Each design session typically explores multiple variations, allowing clients to compare options side by side before making final selections.

The timing of this service launch coincides with increased demand for residential pool installations across Northern California. As more homeowners invest in outdoor living improvements, the ability to preview projects comprehensively has become increasingly valuable. The 3D design tool also facilitates better communication between clients and construction teams, reducing the likelihood of misunderstandings or mid-project changes that can impact timelines and budgets.

Based in Orangevale, California, Century Pools specializes in custom Inground Pool installations, repairs, and maintenance throughout the Sacramento region. The company maintains an A+ rating with the Better Business Bureau and has built its reputation on detailed craftsmanship and customer-focused service. Their portfolio includes various pool types, from traditional geometric designs to contemporary freeform installations featuring integrated spas and water features. The company's experienced team handles all aspects of pool construction, from initial site assessment through final inspection, ensuring projects meet both aesthetic goals and technical requirements.
