Bren & Mike are a couple that decided to build an online empire through affiliate networking, and as they have been very successful in this, have announced that Influx Entrepreneur plans to spend 1/4 million dollars on a marketing strategy starting on Tuesday, March 1, 2016. One of the tools that Bren and Mike have been heavily involved in is Influx Entrepreneur.

The duo's Mike Marko says: "Anyone who wants to set up a marketing website needs to consider Influx Entrepreneur. Now that they will be investing heavily in further improving their offerings, the time is really here for people to sign up with them. We aim to teach our followers how to not only use Influx Entrepreneur, but also how to blog in an effort to improve their online standing. The two combined truly is all that is needed to make it in the online world."

Influx Entrepreneur currently has over 250,000 active members. It is the marketing platform of choice for people who are looking to build a website for their business. In their Influx Entrepreneur review, Bren & Mike explain that the network offers a custom website service, where they build a business website using one of over 300 different website themes that they can use. Furthermore, they can also create custom themes for those who want a truly unique and individual website look. The themes are all WordPress based, which means they are easy to use.

Influx Entrepreneur has a number of key features. As a membership website, it gives its members instant hosting, so that they can start to upload content straight away. It is also filled with important tools and strategies that teach members how to market and brand themselves. The system says that it can help people bring in as many as 20 quality leads per day or more, which is a significant amount and, through the webinar system, it teaches members how to dominate Google.

"Influx Entrepreneur regularly adds more cool stuff as well," says Bren, "they effectively help you to set up a full marketing website." Bren & Mike are ready to help others in getting the most out of their Influx Entrepreneur membership.
