August 08, 2025 -

Benjamin Franklin Plumbing in Bethlehem has just announced that they're expanding their sewer cleaning services. This move is aimed at giving homeowners and businesses the chance to use advanced plumbing solutions for clearing blocked drains, dealing with root intrusions, and fixing sewer line stoppages. Known for their dependable and professional service, this local franchise is still a top choice for people looking for a "plumber near me" in the Lehigh Valley area.

With over 92,120 customer reviews and a national rating of 4.83 stars, Benjamin Franklin Plumbing has made a name for itself in the world of residential and commercial plumbing solutions. Their Bethlehem location focuses on addressing the specific challenges of sewer cleaning in Bethlehem. These challenges often come from the area's old infrastructure and varying seasonal weather.

A spokesperson from Benjamin Franklin Plumbing stated, "Sewer cleaning is one of our core services, especially here in Bethlehem, where many homes still use older plumbing systems. Our specialized techniques, like hydro jetting and camera inspections, help us offer thorough and sustainable solutions that protect both properties and the environment."

The company aims to use cutting-edge technology to make their services even better. Hydro jetting uses high-pressure water jets to remove blockages, while camera inspections let technicians accurately find the problem without unnecessary digging. This approach saves resources and keeps customers happy.

Benjamin Franklin Plumbing also makes efforts to tackle common plumbing issues in the area. Whether it's dealing with hard water problems or carrying out sewer line inspections to stop root blockages, they have solutions. Plus, the company is into eco-friendly plumbing choices to meet the rising demand for sustainable living.

"We get the challenges that come with Bethlehem's older homes, and we're dedicated to offering solutions that not only fix immediate issues but also stop future ones," said another company representative. "Our expanded services show our commitment to improving plumbing standards in the community."

Along with expanding their sewer cleaning services, Benjamin Franklin Plumbing keeps offering a club membership program. This program provides members with exclusive discounts and benefits, aiming to make top-quality plumbing more affordable for Bethlehem's residents and businesses. The company also offers financial plans, ensuring that everyone can access necessary plumbing services.

They take a customer-first approach, featuring 24/7 emergency plumbing services, affirming their reputation as reliable when it really counts. Plumbing issues can happen at any time, and their round-the-clock availability allows the company to deal with problems promptly, reducing potential damage.

Benjamin Franklin Plumbing is located at 1455 Valley Center Pkwy Suite 170, Bethlehem, PA 18017. They invite local residents and businesses to explore their expanded services. More information is available on their website, where visitors can book appointments and subscribe to newsletters with expert tips. They are easy to find for those looking for a plumber near me.

Their ranking as Forbes' Top Ranked Plumbing Company of 2024 highlights their dedication to quality and service. This recognition serves as a reminder of their continuous commitment to providing top-quality service and innovative solutions for today's plumbing issues.

As part of the Authority Brands Family, Benjamin Franklin Plumbing strives to maintain the standards that have earned them industry accolades. Their unique on-time guarantee?offering financial compensation for every minute they arrive late, up to $300?underscores their commitment to timeliness and customer satisfaction.
