

DSB Products Releases Vinyl Wall Decals

March 01, 2016

March 01, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Keller, TX business DSB Products is proud to announce that they have expanded their line of products. They have been selling the very popular line of 'Happy Cook' kitchen products since the spring of 2015. Now, they have added vinyl wall decals to their offerings, with the first one being the 'Welcome to Our Home' decal. The company intends to release a number of new decals in the coming weeks. The decals are available on the Amazon DSB Products Store.

D.S. Barnett from DSB Products says: "The Welcome to Our Home decal is the first decal we have released outside of our line of Happy Cook kitchen products. We are happy to see that they are already being very positively received. We intend to release a number of other decals in the coming weeks and months."

The wall decals are of premium quality and can adhere to a range of surfaces. These include walls, glass, mirrors, and any other clean and smooth surface. The decals are also very easy to remove and will not cause any damage to the walls. They are made from sheets of PVC with each character and line precisely cut out so that the decal appears as if painted on the wall. Instructions to apply the decal are provided as well as access to videos that demonstrate the application steps.

The company prides itself on its 100% made in the USA policy. No element of the decals are imported. The company believes in supporting the local economy and is committed to continuing with this philosophy for all future home decor items that they will be releasing.

The Welcome wall decal has only just been released but is already drawing a lot of positive attention. "I love this wall decal," says one happy customer. "I really want people to know that they are welcome in my home, and this decal expresses that in a very clear and fashionable manner. It was super easy to apply it to the wall and I foresee no problems in taking it off, if I ever want to take it off that is. I'm quite excited to see the extended range, I may just buy a few more."

DSB Products is committed to quality products that enhance the functionality and decor of people's homes.
