Dominion Group Properties Receives Strong Client Reviews Highlighting Trust and Personalized Service

October 20, 2025

Phoenix, AZ - October 20, 2025 -

Phoenix, AZ ? Dominion Group Properties, a trusted real estate agency based in North Phoenix, has earned growing public recognition for its client service and market expertise, supported by an expanding collection of verified Google reviews. As the Greater Phoenix housing market continues to evolve?with home prices rising nearly 5% over the past year, according to the Arizona Regional Multiple Listing Service?the company?s focus on communication, transparency, and local knowledge has resonated with both buyers and sellers.

Founded in 2010 by Jonathan Baer, Dominion Group Properties represents homeowners, investors, and landlords across Phoenix, Anthem, Desert Hills, New River, Carefree, and Cave Creek. With more than 1,000 completed transactions and over $240 million in closed volume, the agency has built its reputation on consistent service and long-term client relationships.

?Earning the trust of clients is something the entire team takes seriously,? said Jonathan Baer, Broker and Owner of Dominion Group Properties. ?Our goal has always been to combine honest advice with reliable communication, helping people make confident real estate decisions.?

Recent client feedback illustrates the company?s approach: Bob Johnson, a repeat client, noted, ?Very professional. Great presentation. Worked well with other Realtors and the title company. I?ve used Jon on three transactions?he?s always looking out for his clients.?

Michele Stalker, a long-time industry professional, described Baer as ?a pillar of honesty and integrity,? adding that his responsiveness and communication ?set him apart from most brokers.?

Josh Faecke, who purchased a home through Dominion Group Properties, shared, ?Jon listened to all our needs and helped us find our dream home. He kept us informed every step of the way and helped us negotiate a great deal.?

In addition to residential sales, Dominion Group Properties manages a portfolio of over 50 properties for local and international clients, offering full-service property management and real estate investment planning. The firm?s dual expertise in brokerage and mortgage lending allows it to streamline complex transactions, helping clients make informed decisions about financing, pricing, and long-term strategy.

The company?s deep understanding of the North Valley?s growth corridors?including areas near the expanding TSMC semiconductor plant, which is adding thousands of new jobs?has positioned it as a valuable local resource for both investors and families relocating to the area.

Dominion Group Properties? recent reviews are publicly available on Google Reviews. The feedback reflects the firm?s ongoing commitment to accessible service?offering support by phone, text, or email, and scheduling appointments tailored to clients? needs.

As the Phoenix real estate landscape continues to attract national attention for its development, Baer and his team remain focused on providing steady guidance rooted in decades of experience. ?These reviews remind us that relationships?not transactions?are the foundation of our work,? Baer said.
