ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon Expands Comprehensive Services to Address Growing Wildlife Intrusions in Willamette Valley

September 22, 2025

September 22, 2025 -
ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon announces expanded service capabilities to address the increasing demand for humane wildlife removal and comprehensive pest management solutions throughout Salem and surrounding Marion County communities. The company has enhanced its service offerings to provide integrated solutions combining wildlife removal, pest control, rodent removal, and wildlife exclusion and prevention services.

The expansion comes as residential and commercial properties throughout the Willamette Valley experience heightened wildlife activity during seasonal transitions. Property owners face challenges ranging from raccoons in attics to rodent infestations in commercial facilities, requiring professional intervention that balances effectiveness with environmental responsibility.

"We're seeing unprecedented demand for comprehensive wildlife management solutions that go beyond simple removal," said Tim Furrh, Operations Director at ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon. "Property owners need partners who understand the unique environmental conditions of the Willamette Valley and can provide lasting solutions that respect both human needs and wildlife welfare."

The company's wildlife removal services address intrusions from various species including raccoons, squirrels, skunks, bats, and birds, following Oregon Department of Fish & Wildlife guidelines to ensure legal and humane practices. Each removal includes thorough property inspection to identify and seal potential re-entry points, preventing future invasions.

Pest control services target common Pacific Northwest pests including ants, spiders, wasps, and termites using integrated pest management strategies. These approaches combine preventive measures, habitat modification, and targeted treatments designed to eliminate current infestations while reducing risks of future problems. Treatment products prioritize safety for children, pets, and local wildlife while maintaining effectiveness against target pests.

Rodent removal services provide full-cycle solutions addressing mice, rats, gophers, and voles. The approach extends beyond trapping to include entry point identification, population removal, and implementation of preventive measures ensuring long-term protection.

Wildlife exclusion and prevention services represent a critical component of the company's comprehensive approach. Professional exclusion techniques seal entry points, reinforce vulnerable areas, and eliminate environmental factors that attract wildlife. These strategies are tailored to each property's specific vulnerabilities and potential threats.

Commercial clients benefit from specialized programs designed for food service, hospitality, retail, and manufacturing industries. These solutions combine monitoring, prevention, and targeted treatments appropriate for commercial environments where pest management requires strict compliance with health and safety regulations.

The company maintains active community engagement through ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon Facebook and other platforms, sharing seasonal wildlife activity updates and prevention tips with local property owners. This educational approach helps residents understand wildlife behavior patterns and take proactive measures to protect their properties.

With over 50 years of experience serving Marion County communities, ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon has established itself as a leader in wildlife removal and pest control in Salem Oregon. The company serves Aumsville, Gervais, Jefferson, Keizer, Salem, Silverton, Stayton, Sublimity, Turner, and Woodburn, providing state-approved, environmentally responsible techniques backed by warranties for customer peace of mind.

###

For more information about ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon, contact the company here:ecoPest Wildlife Management OregonTim Furrh+1 971-504-4977critter@critterbros.comSalem, Oregon 97301

ecoPest Wildlife Management Oregon

ecoPest Wildlife Management offers expert pest control in Salem, Oregon and surrounding areas. We handle rodents, insects, and humane wildlife removal, plus insulation services to fix damage or improve efficiency.

Website: https://oregon.ecopest-mgt.com/

Email: critter@critterbros.com

Phone: +1 971-504-4977