Mr. Appliance of Pasco County Opens at New Address

September 09, 2025

September 09, 2025 -
Mr. Appliance of Pasco County, known for its appliance repair services, has just moved to a new location. They've shifted from 8606 Government Dr Ste 101 to 5510 River Road Suite #212 in New Port Richey, Florida. This move is aimed at meeting the increasing demand for their services, which will allow them to serve both homes and businesses across the county more effectively.

The company provides a full range of services that cater to the needs of both modern homes and businesses. They handle residential appliance repair and can fix everyday items such as dishwashers, fridges, and ovens. With their easy online booking system on their website, scheduling service has never been more convenient. On the business side, they offer services for kitchen appliances and laundry equipment, helping ensure business operations run smoothly. Businesses can also schedule services directly, ensuring minimal downtime.

Another important service offered by Mr. Appliance of Pasco County is their Appliance Wellness Program. This program focuses on preventive maintenance, helping to keep appliances in good shape and reduce the chances of expensive repairs or replacements in the future. More details about how to keep appliances in top condition can be found on their blog. They also offer dryer vent cleaning, which helps prevent dryer fires and maintain the appliances' efficiency.

According to Joe Cartier from Mr. Appliance, "Our new spot on River Road makes it easier for us to serve our community. It puts us in a great position to offer more efficient and flexible services. We are committed to our principles of clear pricing, skilled technicians, and putting the customer first."

Convenience is also a priority for the company. They offer online booking and next-day service for repairs requested after 4:00 p.m. For those who ask early, same-day service is available. Their blog provides insights and tips on appliance care, helping customers maintain their appliances at home.

Mr. Appliance of Pasco County stays active on social media, including their Mr. Appliance of Pasco County Facebook page, where they share updates and service tips.

"Change is sometimes necessary for growth and development," Joe Cartier commented. "Moving shows our commitment to meeting client needs and improving our services. We hope our clients find the new location more convenient."

For Mr. Appliance of Pasco County, this move is more than just about changing addresses. It symbolizes a continued improvement in their service offerings. The new facility is expected to enhance their ability to respond faster and serve their clients better. This new address, along with their strong commitment to service, highlights their dedication to adapting to client needs and the increasing demand for appliance repair in the area.

Their active engagement on social media platforms like Mr. Appliance of Pasco County Facebook and YouTube shows their dedication to staying connected with the community. Whether through expert advice, service requests, or customer testimonials, they reinforce their commitment to customer satisfaction and high-quality service.

With their relocation, they open a new chapter in their journey. From residential appliance repair to servicing commercial equipment, Mr Appliance of Pasco County is well-equipped to meet the needs of their clients, always delivering with professionalism and care. More information about their services can be found on their official website.
