J&J Roofing & Construction Expands Roofing Services

September 09, 2025

Vancouver, Washington - September 09, 2025 -
J&J Roofing & Construction announces its expansion of roofing services to the Vancouver, Washington community and to the greater Clark County area. J&J Roofing & Construction in Vancouver WA, a locally owned company, hopes the expansion will help meet the increasing demand for roofing services in the region.

For over 40 years, J&J Roofing & Construction has offered comprehensive roofing services. They provide roof replacement solutions for various types of roofs, including asphalt shingle, metal, and wood shake. Additionally, their roof repair services address anything from minor leaks to significant damage, expanding the longevity of existing roof structures. The company is fully licensed, bonded, and insured for both residential and commercial projects.

J&J Roofing & Construction is certified by GAF Master Elite® certification. Fewer than 2% of contractors in the nation hold this certification. Customers get more than just installations and repairs; they gain long-term assurance, as J&J provides roofing system warranties that can last up to 50 years, supported by GAF. They also offer workmanship warranties that fit the specific services they provide.

J&J Roofing & Construction offers a comprehensive range of services to tackle various roofing needs, including emergency roofing services. Beyond roofing, J&J also extends its expertise to the installation and repair of metal roofs, which are recognized for their durability and energy efficiency. They provide routine maintenance like roof cleaning services to remove debris, moss, and algae, contributing to the longevity of roofing materials. Their services in commercial roofing offer tailored solutions for companies and businesses with unique roofing requirements.

The company serves neighborhoods throughout the region, including areas like Hazel Dell, Salmon Creek, East Vancouver, and Ridgefield. They understand the unique challenges of the Pacific Northwest climate and focus on roofing solutions that stand up to rain, moss, and wind, which are key for weathering local conditions.

J&J Roofing & Construction holds an A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau. They also have cultivated long-standing connections with local homeowners and business owners.

"Our dedication has always been about building lasting relationships with our clients by providing quality craftsmanship and transparent service," says Ike Reed, a company representative. "We believe in supporting our community, which is why we offer special discounts for veterans, seniors, and military families."

J&J Roofing & Construction now serves Vancouver, Washington, and the surrounding Clark County. Their services extend beyond roofing to include siding, windows, gutters, soft and pressure washing, and fences, providing a holistic approach to property management.
