

Keathley Landscaping Expands Residential Yard Drainage Company Services

September 26, 2025

GARLAND, TX - September 26, 2025 -
Keathley Landscaping, a Dallas-based landscape and drainage contractor, has expanded its specialized drainage services to include Allen, Texas, addressing the growing need for professional water management solutions in North Texas communities. The expansion brings certified drainage expertise to homeowners facing persistent flooding and water damage issues that can compromise property foundations and landscape investments.

The company's expansion into Allen comes as severe weather patterns and rapid development continue to challenge existing drainage infrastructure throughout the region. Poor drainage systems can lead to significant property damage, including foundation problems, landscape erosion, and basement flooding, issues that standard homeowner insurance policies typically exclude from coverage.

"Water management problems require more than temporary fixes or basic grading adjustments," said Logan Keathley, NDS Certified Drainage Contractor and owner of Keathley Landscaping. "Each property presents unique challenges based on soil composition, elevation changes, and surrounding development. Our approach involves comprehensive site analysis to develop custom solutions that protect both the immediate landscape and the long-term structural integrity of the home."

The expanded service area brings professional residential yard drainage solutions to Allen homeowners, including French drain installation, custom-designed buried drainage pipe systems, and strategic grading modifications. These services address complex water flow issues that can develop from natural topography changes, new construction in surrounding areas, or aging drainage infrastructure.

French drains remain a primary solution for many properties experiencing standing water or soil saturation problems. These systems effectively redirect surface and subsurface water away from foundations, patios, and landscape features. The company also specializes in designing and installing large-scale buried drainage pipe networks for properties with more extensive water management challenges.

Beyond traditional drainage installations, the company provides comprehensive landscape services that complement water management systems. These include stonework and retaining walls that can help control erosion while enhancing property aesthetics, as well as strategic landscape design that naturally promotes proper water flow.

"Property owners often underestimate the cascading effects of poor drainage until significant damage occurs," noted Keathley. "Preventive drainage solutions not only protect the immediate landscape but also preserve property values and prevent costly foundation repairs that can exceed tens of thousands of dollars."

The Allen service expansion represents part of Keathley Landscaping's broader commitment to serving North Texas communities with professional landscape and drainage solutions. The company maintains operations throughout Dallas, Garland, Wylie, Plano, and surrounding areas, bringing nearly two decades of experience to each project.

Keathley Landscaping has operated in the Dallas metropolitan area since 2002, providing comprehensive landscape design, construction, and maintenance services. The company specializes in drainage solutions, landscape installation, outdoor living spaces, and property maintenance. As a certified drainage contractor, the company combines technical expertise with practical solutions to address the unique water management challenges facing North Texas properties.
