

HHI Windows and Doors Launches Window Replacement Financing Option for Bluffton Homeowners

October 05, 2025

BLUFFTON, SC - October 05, 2025 -

Bluffton, South Carolina ? HHI Windows and Doors has introduced a financing program designed to make window and door replacement more manageable for homeowners in the Bluffton and surrounding Lowcountry area.

The program, offered in partnership with Hearth, gives residents the option to spread project costs over time rather than making a large upfront payment. Hearth provides flexible financing terms, no prepayment penalties, and a straightforward online application process with quick approvals. This allows homeowners to move forward with needed window or door replacement without significant delays due to budget constraints, according to HHI Windows and Doors.

?By introducing a flexible payment option tailored to different budgets, more residents are able to upgrade their homes with energy-efficient, stylish windows without the upfront financial burden that often delays essential improvements,? says Richard Barron, owner of HHI Windows and Doors.

The financing option is intended for projects of varying sizes and offers an alternative to high-interest credit cards or traditional bank financing. Homeowners may choose a plan that fits their budget to make them proceed with energy-efficient upgrades while keeping monthly expenses predictable, as explained by the windows and door replacement company.

Furthermore, HHI Windows and Doors partners with various US manufacturers, including Windoor, Windsor Windows, Western Windows System, PGT Custom Windows and Doors. MI Windows and Doors, Provia Building Products, Softlite Windows and Doors, and Sunrise Windows and Doors Building Products. As partners of these brands, they are able to provide a selection of styles and materials, such as wood, aluminum, vinyl, and fiberglass, to complement the client?s home?s design.

The company started in 2010 as Holliday Home Improvements. Since its founding, they have been providing window installation, window replacement, window types, door installation, door replacement, and door types to residents and commercial customers.

Richard Barron, owner of HHI Windows and Doors says their window installation and replacement services include a wide selection of entry doors, sliding glass doors, impact-resistant doors, custom French doors, and hurricane-rated products designed with the Lowcountry climate in mind.

HHI Windows and Doors can handle the installation and replacement of bay and bow windows, casement windows, awning windows, double-hung windows, single-hung windows, egress windows, picture windows, and hurricane-resistant windows. For doors, they have been providing a wide selection of entry doors, sliding glass doors, impact-resistant doors, custom French doors, and hurricane-rated products designed with the Lowcountry climate in mind.

Citing its long years in the industry, Barron says the relationship they built with clients came from their long history. They provide guidance to customers for their home improvement investments. Furthermore, HHI Windows and Doors also supports sustainability by offering eco-friendly products that help reduce energy costs.

HHI Windows and Doors serves several South Carolina areas, including Beaufort County, Hilton Head, Okatie, Hardeeville, Ridgeland, Tillman, and Coosawhatchie, as well as nearby Savannah, Georgia. The company serves both residential and commercial clients in these areas.
