Serenity Lane Recognized for Transforming Lives in New Five-Star Patient Review

September 03, 2025

September 03, 2025 -
August 28, 2025 ? Serenity Lane, an alcohol and drug rehabilitation center in Bend, Oregon, has been helping people find freedom from addiction for more than fifty years, but what often speaks loudest about its impact are the words of those who have been through its programs.

Recently, a former patient shared a review that captures the heart of what makes the Oregon-based nonprofit so meaningful for people and families facing the challenges of substance use.

The reviewer, who signed their words as MGW, wrote, ?I can not recommend Serenity Lane enough? thankfully, they have given me the guidance, tools, education, and community, that I needed; to finally break out of my destructive impulses, physiological dependency, and spiritual void, that caused me to turn everything good in my life upside down.?

Stories like this are not unusual at Serenity Lane. Since 1973, the organization has worked to build a place where people can not only get medical help, but also find support, connection, and understanding. The main campus in Coburg offers residential treatment, while outpatient services are available in Bend, Portland,

Roseburg, and several other communities across the state. For those who cannot travel, care can even be accessed through virtual programs. This flexibility makes it possible for more people to take that first step toward recovery in a way that works for their lives.

In their review, MGW encouraged others to consider starting with outpatient services in Bend, saying that for anyone who is not ready or able to attend inpatient care, ?I encourage you to dip your foot in to Serenity Lane Bend outpatient treatment.? That suggestion reflects something Serenity Lane has always believed: even a small step can open the door to lasting change.

The review also highlights the importance of group connection and professional guidance. MGW shared, ?Once you discover what?s going on under the hood? it will make sense, and being in a group with people with the same issues, under the guidance of well trained ? and caring professionals? makes for a more real you, and a better life.?

For many, recovery is not just about medical treatment; it is also about emotional and psychological well-being. It is about being surrounded by people who truly understand, guided by experts who know how to help. Serenity Lane combines both. Its staff includes licensed physicians, psychiatrists, and counselors who specialize in addiction medicine, but they also bring compassion, patience, and encouragement to every session.

Over the decades, Serenity Lane has become a trusted name because of its focus on the whole person. Treatment is tailored to each individual, but it also includes education and support for families, who often carry their own pain when a loved one struggles with addiction. By involving family members, the center helps build stronger foundations for recovery that can last long after formal treatment ends.

MGW ended their review with words that show just how deeply the experience mattered: ?Serenity Lane is one of the best treatment centers this side of the Mississippi, and you?ve got an outpost near you? or via zoom. Best of luck.?

Serenity Lane has been helping people overcome substance and alcohol use disorders since 1973. All of the programs they offer have been accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF). They have introduced many new programs in Oregon, such as residential step-down and outpatient programs that integrate residential and outpatient services. They have also been the provider of the only Addiction Counselor Training Program in Oregon. Some of their graduates are now offering their services through various treatment programs nationwide.
