

NextDAY Cabinets Hosts Wholesale Cabinet Sales Training

September 05, 2025

Chantilly, VA - September 05, 2025 -
NextDAY Cabinets hosted a special wholesale cabinet sales training for their dealer team and other participants. The training took place from July to August 2025, led by NextDAY Cabinets Sales Manager Logan Goksoy. With over ten years of experience, Goksoy helped boost the team's skills in communication and customer service. The training was held at the Chantilly showroom, one of 6 local showrooms across the region.

Specializing in wholesale distribution, NextDAY Cabinets collaborates with contractors, dealers, and builders, offering a range of products like kitchen cabinets, bathroom vanities, and accessories. At the Chantilly Showroom location, visitors can browse the variety of options available in person, helping clients make informed decisions. This showroom is also the company's headquarters, located at 14000 Thunderbolt Pl, Suite K, Chantilly, VA 20151.

"The wholesale cabinet sales training was a huge benefit for our team," said a spokesperson for NextDay

Cabinets. "It not only improved our product knowledge but also reinforced our core values of teamwork and excellent customer service. We want our dealers to have the tools and knowledge to deliver a smooth experience for their clients."

The training covered a wide range of topics, giving an in-depth look at NextDAY Cabinets' product lines. They offer brands like Forevermark, Mantra, Lineadecor, Golden Home, Marsh Furniture, and Nations Cabinets. The company also offers Shiloh Cabinets, known for their custom American-made quality and craftsmanship. Familiarizing the team with these products ensures that dealers can find the right solutions for their customers' needs.

The session also explored the benefits of choosing wholesale kitchen cabinets from NextDAY Cabinets. The dealers learned about the advantages of ready-to-assemble options versus custom solutions, arming them with the knowledge to handle diverse customer preferences smoothly. By keeping up with wholesale cabinet sales training, NextDAY Cabinets aims to keep the industry informed and up to date.

"We are dedicated to offering both quality and convenience," continued the spokesperson for NextDay Cabinets. "By hosting our training sessions at the showroom, we make sure our team knows all about the products and services." Customers can also visit other nearby locations in Alexandria, Beltsville, Chicago, Richmond, and Woodbridge.

The company continues to provide affordable, high-quality, all-wood cabinets. Lead times at NextDAY Cabinets are as fast as 3-5 days. NextDAY also offers flexible options and professional kitchen and bathroom design services.

Looking ahead, NextDAY Cabinets remains focused on growth and improvement. The company is committed to delivering value to its clients by offering kitchen cabinets wholesale and keeping their design services up to date.
