

Go Industries Inc Introduces Heavy-Duty Shovel Boxes for Trucks

September 11, 2025

Richardson, TX - September 11, 2025 -
Go Industries Inc, a Richardson, Texas-based truck accessories manufacturer, has introduced heavy-duty shovel boxes for trucks designed to provide efficient storage solutions for work vehicles. The new product features perforated metal construction that allows dirt and debris to fall through, preventing accumulation within the storage compartment.

The shovel boxes measure 72" by 18" by 10" and are engineered for versatility in mounting options. Users can choose between permanent installation or a slide-in configuration for easy removal when needed. The perforated metal sides distinguish this storage solution from conventional enclosed boxes by addressing the common problem of dirt and debris buildup that typically occurs when storing shovels and other long-handled tools.

"The design philosophy behind our shovel boxes addresses a fundamental challenge that work truck operators face daily," said a Go Industries spokesperson. "By incorporating perforated metal construction, we eliminate the maintenance issues associated with dirt accumulation while providing robust storage that withstands the demands of commercial and industrial applications."

The product is available in both white and black finishes to complement various truck colors and fleet specifications. The installation process has been streamlined to accommodate both professional installers and truck owners who prefer to handle their own worktruck upgrades. The mounting system allows for secure attachment while maintaining the flexibility to adapt to different truck bed configurations.

Go Industries has established itself in the truck accessories market since 1978, developing products that serve commercial fleets, law enforcement agencies, and individual truck owners. The company's product line extends beyond storage solutions to include grille guards, winch systems, bumper replacements, headache racks, and custom manufacturing services.

The introduction of these shovel boxes aligns with the company's focus on creating practical solutions for work vehicles. Construction crews, landscaping companies, utility services, and agricultural operations represent key market segments that regularly require secure storage for long-handled tools and equipment.

"Work trucks serve as mobile offices and equipment centers for countless professionals," added the Go Industries spokesperson. "Our shovel boxes represent one component of a comprehensive approach to maximizing truck functionality and organization."

The perforated metal construction also contributes to weight reduction compared to solid-walled alternatives, while maintaining structural integrity. This design consideration impacts fuel efficiency and payload capacity, factors that fleet managers and owner-operators evaluate when selecting truck accessories.

Go Industries Inc. maintains its manufacturing operations in Richardson, Texas, where it produces a range of truck accessories and custom solutions. The company holds Platinum Status with SEMA, reflecting its commitment to quality standards and innovation in the automotive aftermarket industry. Beyond standard product offerings, Go Industries provides custom manufacturing services for clients with specific requirements that extend beyond catalog items.

The shovel boxes join an extensive catalog of truck accessories designed to enhance vehicle functionality, protection, and organization for professional and personal use.
