Near Death Experience Stories Shared in Book by Critical Care Nurse Raul Meza

September 09, 2025

VALENCIA, CA - September 09, 2025 -
With over three decades of experience in critical care, registered nurse and speaker Raul Meza has released a book that takes readers inside the hospital room during some of life?s most vulnerable moments. Injection of Faith captures real-life stories from 32 years of patient care, recounting events that highlight resilience, faith, and accounts of what patients describe as near-death experiences.

The book includes stories of patients who overcame tremendous odds, families who found strength during crisis, and testimonies from those who reported visions or experiences that occurred while their lives hung in the balance. While deeply personal, these narratives are presented with clinical detail and compassion, offering readers insight into the human side of medicine.

Meza shares, ?After decades at the bedside, I realized these stories needed to be preserved, not only for nurses and healthcare workers but also for anyone seeking to understand how faith and healing often intersect.?

As a result of the book?s growing readership, Raul Meza has seen an increase in speaking invitations across the United States. His schedule now includes nursing conferences, medical gatherings, and church communities seeking to hear firsthand about the events that shaped his career. His reach has also extended internationally, with speaking tours in Mexico and Argentina, where he presents in both English and Spanish.

The impact of Injection of Faith has also grown online, as readers search for accounts of NDE?s (Near Deat experiences) and how such experiences influence not only the patient but also the medical staff who care for them. Meza?s ability to bridge the technical aspects of nursing with the deeply human elements of survival and recovery has made his presentations especially resonant among healthcare professionals.

In addition to the English version, Meza has published Inyección de Fe, the Spanish-language edition of the book, allowing him to connect with a wider audience across the Americas. This bilingual approach has further fueled his role as both a medical professional and a storyteller. His message emphasizes the value of listening to patients? experiences, even when they fall outside traditional clinical explanations.

Readers have described Injection of Faith as an important addition to the growing body of literature that highlights near death experience stories. While the book contains accounts of extraordinary events, it is grounded in the reality of everyday hospital life. By bringing together moments of crisis, recovery, and unexplained phenomena, Meza provides a window into how faith often arises in medical environments where outcomes are uncertain.

Meza continues to write, speak, and share these experiences with audiences across cultures and professions. His work demonstrates how stories from the bedside can inspire broader conversations about hope, resilience, and the mysteries that sometimes accompany the healing process.

For more information about Raul Meza, his speaking schedule, or to learn more about Injection of Faith, visit www.raulmeza.com

###

For more information about Promeza MG, contact the company here:Promeza MGBetty Meza818-264-4123info@promeza.com27240 Turnberry Ln, Ste 200, Valencia, CA 91355

Promeza MG

Leading Hispanic Faith Based Marketing Company on the West Coast. Marketing Christian Concerts, Tours, Movies, and Evangelistic Crusades.

Website: http://convenciondeadoradores.com

Email: info@promeza.com

Phone: 818-264-4123